Car Brought Up With 13 Bodies

Rail Toll Put at 40; Former Yankee Player Stirnweiss Is One of Victims

ELIZABETH, N.J. (AP) — A tricky hoisting operation early today recovered a Jersey Central commuter coach bearing 13 bodies from the swirling waters of Newark Bay.

The railroad estimates that 40 persons died Monday when a five-car commuter train, pulled by two locomotives, hit an open drawbridge on a trestle over the bay and knifed into the water.

Twenty bodies have been recovered so far.

35 Others Injured

Thirty-five others were injured.

The locomotives and three of the five coaches came to rest on the silty bottom. One of the coaches dangled over the water long enough for its pasengers to scramble to safety and then plunged in.

The raised coach, little damaged outwardly, was a shambles inside, strewn with luggage and bodies. It was towed on a flat barge to the Bayonne Naval Depot.

The bodies were taken to the Bayonne morgue for identification.

Among bodies identified today were those of George (Snuffy) Stirnweiss, 39, former New York Yankee star second baseman; and Howard W. Huntington, 54, a statistician of the New York Times financial news department for 33 years.

Stroke of Fate

Among the missing and presumed dead was Elton Clark, 71, a director of Allied Chemical & Dye Co., one of the nation's biggest corporations.

Stirnweiss, father of six children, lost his life as the result of a split-second stroke of fate—he

40 Homes Go Through Long Night

Calls on Victims Mark Grim Wait

RED BANK, N. J. (AP) —It was a long night in many homes along the north Jersey shore.

First, the empty chair at dinner Monday night. Then an empty bed.

Somebody in the family was missing "on that train."

Agonizing Uncertainty

"That train" could only mean the Jersey Central train that plunged into Newark Bay Monday morning, leaving agonizing uncertainty behind.

And in at least 40 homes, in the homes of the prominent, the wealthy and the obscure, they waited — afraid that the phone would ring, afraid that it would never ring.

Friends and relatives called. Reporters called. Local police called. None had any more information than the waiting family.

And they waited, knowing that each hour that went by increased the grim possibility that a loved one had died in the murky waters of Newark Bay.

Ex- Yankee Missing

They waited in the home of George (Snuffy) Stirnweiss, 39, former second baseman for the New York Yankees and father of six children.

Stirnweiss almost missed the train Monday morning, catching it just as it was moving out of Red Bank. He was headed for New York, where he held down two jobs—one with Caldwell & Co., a foreign freight firm, and the other as director of the New York Journal-American sandlot baseball program.

His wife Jane called both offices. George never reached either. And she sat back and waited.

Through the night, other families waited for word of:

Elton Clark, 72, a director of Allied Dye and Chemical Corp., one of the nation's biggest firms, who boarded the train at Mantoloking.

Joseph Di Stasio, 69, of Belmar, a partner in the New York firm of Di Stasio and Van Buren, consulting engineers, who had been designated in 1958 as Engineer of the Year by the Brooklyn Institute.

James Clark, 30, of Red Bank, art director of a commercial studio in New York.

Howard W. Huntington, 54, Neptune City, N.J., statistician of the New York Times financial department for 33 years.

Woman Found Guilty Of Minor Beer Sale

A verdict of "guilty to both counts" of an indictment charging Joan Alden with sale of beer to a minor was returned by the jury in County Court at 9:40 p. m. Monday after the jury had deliberated since shortly after noon.

Prior to final submission of the case to the jury, Assistant District Attorney Joseph Torraca moved to amend the indictment to correct the defendant's name to Mrs. Joan Rikett.

Not in Premises

Mrs. Rickett, nee Alden, was indicted for sale of beer to David Moore of Hurley on September 10, 1957, at the Theodore Salvucci tavern on upper Broadway. Moore testified he was 17 years of age and that he had consumed "ten beers" and then left the place and proceeded to break mirrors on cars on Wall Street when he was apprehended by the police. The grand jury had returned an indictment against both Salvucci and Joan Alden, but the indictment against Salvucci was dismissed when it was shown he was not in the premises when the sale took place.

Once after being sent to the jury room the jurors asked for instruction. They asked that the testimony of Officer Harold DeGraff be read to them. This was at 5:15 p. m. After the testimony was read they continued deliberations until the guilty verdict at 9:40 p. m.

After the jury was returned, Sherwood E. Davis, counsel, asked for continuance of bail pending sentence. Judge Louis G. Bruhn will impose sentence on Friday at 2 p. m.

Remanded to Jail

Edward Charles Rosell, 19; Alfred Henry Lane, 18, and Matthew Calvin Johnson, 17, were arraigned before Judge Bruhn on a charge of burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry. They were not represented by counsel and a formal plea of innocent was entered to the indictment and counsel will be assigned later. They were remanded to jail. All three have prior felony convictions, the district attorney's office reported.

Ernest Faust, charged with driving while intoxicated as a second offender, asked for assignment of counsel and his case was adjourned until September 29, meanwhile he said he might be able to get an attorney.

Maceo Nash, charged with violation of Section 970 and 973 of the Penal Law, a gambling charge, growing out of alleged activities at 17 West Strand from January 1, 1957 to December 1, 1957, and Dell Jackson, charged with the same offense, both entered pleas of guilty to the first count of the indictment, being common gamblers, and in each case a 30 days suspended jail sentence was imposed and a $100 fine paid. Charles Saccoman appeared for the defendants. The second count of the indictment was dismissed.

Raymond Harvey Williams, charged with grand larceny, second degree, and petit larceny, entered a plea of guilty to the second count of petit larceny and Judge Bruhn suspended imposi-

President To Confer On Schools

U. S. Is Waiting For Faubus Move

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Rogers today headed for a Newport, R.I., conference with President Eisenhower that could have eventual far-reaching effects on Southern resistance to school integration.

As of now, authoritative sources report, the federal government has no plan for any sensational or precipitate action to meet the high school closures at Little Rock, Ark., and other delaying actions elsewhere in the South.

Just Review: Hagerty

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, described the Eisenhower-Rogers conference as "a review of the integration situation to date."

Washington officials saw nothing urgent in the meeting.

They discounted the statement of Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus, when he ordered closing of Little Rock high schools last week to avoid integration, that the next move was up to Washington. They contend it isn't so, that the next move actually is up to Faubus.

They indicated that any federal action will await Faubus' move.

Count on Pressures

The feeling here is that Faubus must now find some method that will stand up in the courts to get secondary school education under way again in his capital city.

Federal authorities are putting

Quemoy News Blackout to Be Tightened

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Chinese Nationalists tightened the news blackout on the Quemoy islands today while working on new attempts to crack the Communist artillery blockade.

New speedup methods of unloading Nationalist planes and ships at Quemoy and the parachuting of supplies to smaller islands near Quemoy were reported. More effective ways to get supplies through the curtain of shells are being sought, Premier Chen Cheng told Parliament.

Four members of Parliament spearheaded a strong clamor in Taipei against the U.S.-Chinese Communist talks which began in Warsaw Monday and recessed until Thursday.

May End Bombardment

The talks are intended to ease Formosa Strait tension, possibly bringing an end to the bombardment of the Quemoys which began Aug. 23. But the four prominent legislators said the talks might adversely affect the morale of nationalist troops and civilians.

"How can America seek peace with the Communists when the objective of international communism is to conquer the world?" a statement by the four said. It followed numerous similar statements of Nationalist leaders urging the United States support for military action against Red China.

So far the United States has limited itself to essentially defensive operations while bringing in a nu-

Formosa May Get Priority Rating

Gromyko Says Suspension Would Help To Push Solution of Other Problems

—The Soviet Union formally proposed today that the U.N. General Assembly act at once to end atomic and hydrogen tests.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko moved as delegates gathered for the opening of the Assembly's 13th regular session.

Crowded Agenda

The Assembly already was faced with a crowded agenda of controversial issues and was expected to come to grip with the Formosa situation before many hours.

A Soviet memorandum handed in by Gromyko charged that the United States and Britain had laid down impossible conditions in their letters of Aug. 22 in which they offered to end nuclear tests Oct. 31 if the Soviets agreed to their terms.

Gromyko proposed that the Assembly separate the questions of nuclear tests from the general disarmament problem and act upon it independently. Suspension of the tests, he said, would create conditions for the solution of other important disarmament problems.

Dulles, Dag Meet

The Soviet move came in the midst of intense diplomatic conferences on strategy.

Secretary of State Dulles met with U.S. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to review problems before the Assembly and to get a first-hand report on Hammarskjold's Middle East trip.

Norway's Foreign Minister Halvard Lange also conferred with Hammarskjold.

Before debate even begins, the 81-nation body expects a battle over election of a new Assembly president. Two Arab foreign ministers—Charles Malik of Lebanon and Ahmed Mohammed Mahgoub of Sudan—are top contenders for the post now held by New Zealand's Sir Leslie Munro. Both claim they have enough commitments to get the required simple majority.

Other Problems Waiting

The contest springs out of July's Middle East crisis. The United Arab Republic objects to Malik because he is regarded as pro-Western.

In addition to Formosa, the Assembly is expected to give another airing to the unsettled Middle East crisis, France's dispute with Algeria, the British-Greek-Turkish squabble over Cyprus and the controversy over South Africa's racial policies.

Allen Stays Transfer of 31 Pupils

Onteora Order Out Pending Appeal

A ruling of the Onteora Central School Board of Education transferring 31 pupils to the Pine Hill Common School has been stayed by an order of Commissioner James E. Allen Jr., of the State Education Department.

The stay will remain in effect pending termination of an appeal by a group of parents of children affected by the ruling.

Rubin Notified

Attorney Martin J. Rubin of Phoenicia, representing parents of 27 of the 31 children, received notice of stay last night.

He said the children, all of them in the second and third grades and remedial classe, returned to Onteora this morning.

The Onteora board ordered the children transferred to Pine Hill several weeks ago. Parents retained Rubin who filed an appeal with the State Education Commissioner to stay the ruling.

Facilities Scored

The Pine Hill facilities have been described in the petition to Commissioner Allen as squalid and depressing.

Some of the children involved in the transfer have been attending classes in the Shandaken-Allaben Hose Company firehouse with the parents taking charge of instructions. A small group of the children (about eight) have been attending the Pine Hill school since the transfer was ordered.

Scar Nabs Robber

LONDON (AP)—Police claimed today they caught a man involved in one of London's biggest bank robberies eight months after the crime—because he cut his hand on a wall and left bits of skin behind.

The prosecution told a court that the skin fitted scars on the hand of John Vernon Rees, 36.

Rees was charged with being involved in a $120,000 bank robbery last December.

State Reports 18 New Polio Cases; Total Is Now 91

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Eighteen cases of polio—the highest weekly total of the year—were reported last week in the 57 counties outside New York City.

The new cases raised to 91 the total number for the area this year, the Health Department reported Monday. This is six less than the total at the same stage in 1957.

However, the figure is well under the average of 945 for the years 1951-1953, before widespread use of the Salk polio vaccine.

Fourteen of last week's cases caused paralysis. Health officials said none of these victims had received the vaccine, which is designed to prevent paralytic polio.

Six of the paralytic cases occurred in Erie County. There were two in Orange County and one each in Madison, Nassau, Niagara, Onondaga, Oswego and Tompkins counties.

Onondaga and Orange counties also reported one non-paralytic case each. The other two non-paralytic cases were in Oneida County.

The state is urging all persons under 40 to take the vaccine.

A total of 6,087 persons received free vaccinations at the recent State Fair in Syracuse, the department said.

Six City Residents Report 'Explosion'

Kingston police received six reports from city residents Monday afternoon that there had been an explosion causing some damage to homes.

The first report came in at 4:38 p. m. when Leo A. Schupp of 23 West Pierpont Street reported a blast.

At 4:39 Mrs. E. G. Gerald of 347 West O'Reilly Street reported an explosion in her neighborhood.

Mrs. Ida Gasool of 87 West Pierpont Street reported the blast at 4:40 p. m. and said the explosion left a crack in her living room ceiling.

At 4:44 Mrs. Jean Hung of 96 Broadway reported to police that she heard a blast and a cracking sound in the top floor of her house.

Also about the same time Floyd Howard of 27 Lindermann Avenue and Morris Weiner of 68 Broadway, also reported a loud noise or blast.

Alderman Frank Sass of the Seventh Ward reported to police at 9:10 p. m. that he had received "several complaints about blasting in the afternoon."

Keating, Wilson Will Accompany Rockefeller Here

Kenneth Keating, Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate, and Malcolm Wilson, Republican candidate for Lieutenant Governor, will accompany Nelson A. Rockefeller, Republican candidate for Governor, when the latter visits Ulster County on Wednesday.

Kenneth L. Wilson, chairman of the Ulster County Republican Central Committee, also stated that Mrs. Rockefeller is accompanying her husband on the Hudson Valley tour.

The Rockefeller party is scheduled to visit Saugerties at about 12 noon Wednesday,

Russia Agrees to East-West Talks on Surprise Attacks

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union has agreed to exploratory talks with the West on ways to prevent surprise attacks. An agreement by experts on a workable system could lead to political discussions on establishing safeguards against another Pearl Harbor.

In answer to a series of notes from President Eisenhower, the Kremlin agreed Monday to meet in Geneva. The Soviet note handed to U.S. Charge d'Affaires Richard H. Davis proposed that eight-nation talks begin Nov. 10.

The meeting would follow the precedent of technical talks that ended Aug. 21 with East-West agreement on ways to police a nuclear weapons tests ban. The United States, Britain and the Soviet Union are to begin political negotiations on an actual ban in Geneva Oct. 31.

The two related aspects of easing world tension, by possible nuclear weapons test ban and safeguards against surprise attack, contribute to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's on-again off-again drive for a summit conference. At the same time, they represent the type of thorough preparation that the United States insists must precede any meeting by heads of government.

The Soviet note suggested that a technical agreement on preventing surprise attacks "undoubtedly will facilitate fruitful examination of the question . . . at a meeting of heads of government." The Kremlin had not sought similarly to use the nuclear weapons test discussions to press for a summit meeting.

For the Nov. 10 talks, the Kremlin proposed equal representation of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the anti-NATO Warsaw Pact. The note suggested the attendance of the United States, Britain, France and Belgium for the West and the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Romania for the East. The same nations participated in nuclear ban technical talks except for Canada took part instead of Belgium.

Rockefeller Claims Facts Were Rigged

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Republican Nelson A. Rockefeller carried his campaign for governor into the North Country Tuesday, after accusing Gov. Harriman's administration of rigging the facts on New York's economic status.

Meanwhile, Democrat Harriman reiterated that he never would approve imposing residency requirements for persons seeking relief.

Former President Harry S. Truman will stop in White Plains, Yonkers, Spring Valley, Newburgh and Kingston Thursday en route to the Democrats' big Upstate rally at Albany that night. Truman will be the main speaker.

Rockefeller planned hand-shaking visits to Malone, Ogdensburg, Gouverneur, Canton and Potsdam. He was to stop over in Albany Tuesday night and make another swing down the Hudson Valley to New York City Wednesday.

Rockefeller toured Saranac Lake, Plattsburgh and Lake Placid Monday. He spoke at a meeting of the New York State Publishers Assn. at Whiteface Monday night.

The GOP candidate told the publishers Harriman aides were using "spurious official statistics" to distort the facts about the state economy.

He contended that New York lagged behind the income growth of most of its neighboring states and said that this lacklustre pace was the "major problem facing our state." He added:

"The economic problem confronting us calls for vigorous united action by our communities, our state and local governments and industry and labor. It should be above and beyond narrow political partisanship."

Rockefeller said the State Commerce Department reported that 563 existing industries had expanded operations in 1956 and 1957. Actually, one of these companies had laid off 3,000 workers, Rockefeller contended.

Harriman spoke in New York City after administering the oath of office to three new members of the State Board of Social Welfare.

He attacked proposals that would require newcomers to New York to wait a year before seeking relief, and remarked:

"As long as I am governor, no such law will be on the books."

Although defeated, a move to impose the one-year residency gained heavy support in the Republican - controlled Legislature last winter.

Democratic Motorcade

Harriman called for a joint effort by private and public groups throughout the state to reduce the causes of poverty and ease the heavy cost of relief.

The new board members are Miss Dorothy I. Height and Dr. Robert W. Laidlaw, both of New York City, and John S. Friedel of Utica.

Harriman and Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan of Manhattan, the party's candidate for U. S. Senate, will join Truman in a motorcade. They will speak from an open car at each stop.

Apathy in New York Over Civil Defense

WASHINGTON (AP)—Residents of New York State, on the basis of samplings in four cities, are reported generally apathetic in their attitude toward civil defense from atomic attack.

A municipal spokesman for Yonkers, who was not named, summarizes it this way:

"The general public simply cannot seem to realize the very real dangers inherent in living in what has come to be termed the atomic age.

"Because we have emerged victorious in two World Wars, despite unpreparedness and blundering they seem to have a childlike faith in our ability to do so again.

"It is an almost impossible task to get them away from their favorite television programs long enough to spend the few hours a week necessary for training and preparation to deal with emergency situations."

Capsule summaries from the other New York cities showed:

Buffalo — "generally apathetic;" Rochester — "Definite belief in need;" Utica—"near apathetic."

The replies, from unnamed municipal officials, were contained in answers to a questionnaire sub-

Aftermath of Drawbridge Tragedy

Chilly Struggle With Death Is Described by Jersey Commuter

ELIZABETH, N. J. (AP) — "I was trapped under water. I thought I was drowned. I kept swimming upward. Suddenly I felt a surge of air. I pulled myself up out of the car and there was a boat."

This was Robert M. Klein, 54, a real estate executive, describing his chilly struggle with death after a Jersey Central commuter train plunged into the murky waters of Newark Bay Monday.

Hear some others.

Drowning, Praying

"I was drowning and praying. My wife was beneath me in the water. I tried to get hold of her. I had one hand on something above me in the water—a seat or something. I had the other hand on my wife. She slipped away. I thought I was drowning and I prayed. Then I saw a light and I realized I was not completely lost."

This was the grief-choked voice of Rafael A. Leon, 55, a Venezuelan financier, who must live always with the memory of his wife's hand slipping through his own to her death.

Quick-thinking Lloyd Nelson, a Marine insurance claim agent who had survived the Woodbridge, N. J., train accident which took 84 lives in 1951, prepared for his escape even seconds before the accident actually occurred.

He saw the open drawbridge, figured it might not close in time and began opening a window.

Floats on Piling

"By the time the car was in the water I had the window open all the way," Nelson said. "I swam to the surface and grabbed a hunk of piling that must have been knocked loose by the train. I floated on it for about 300 yards until I was picked up."

Seventy-year-old F. Campbell Jeffery, retired dean of the New York Law School, said he found himself in water up to his waist.

"I reached up and chinned myself up on the luggage rack," he said. "The train was about an angle of 80 degrees to the abutment of the bridge. I went up hand over hand, from seat to seat, working myself toward the rear of the car. There was a man in front of me who could not make it at the top. So I boosted him up and then stepped out and joined between six or eight others who had escaped."

Elwood E. De Hart, 73, a movie engineer for a Jersey City theater, said he also escaped easily.

"I'm a very good swimmer and didn't even get my hair wet," he told newsmen. "I was reading a book. When the train goes over the bridge I usually look up to see what's going on. There was a haze to the south and I noticed a tramp ship coming in at a pretty good speed. I noticed the train wasn't slowing down.

Falling Through Air

"All of a sudden the brakes went on and everything went topsy-turvy. We bumped over the ties, off the tracks and went over. I slid towards the front of the car. Two thirds of the way up I grabbed a footrest. I felt we were falling through the air. A fellow opened a window and squirmed out, I wiggled out in back of him."

Paul V. Land, a New York broker, said he found himself suddenly in the aisle of the car.

"Now I couldn't decide what to do," he said. "I was afraid if I got out of the car the undercurrent would suck me down So I just buttoned my coat and thought, 'What a lousy way to die.'

"Then I saw a window and broke through it. I don't know how. Maybe with my shoulder, maybe with my head. There are cuts on my head."

F. J. Dittus Sr., Rail Trucker, Died on Monday

Frederick J. Dittus Sr., 68, of 59 Garden Street, died Monday at Kingston Hospital. Born in Kingston, he was the son of the late J. Henry and Matilda Staudacher Dittus, and at the time of his death was a trucker for the West Shore Division of New York Central Railroad.

He was in World War I and served with AEF in France from Aug. 30, 1918, to Sept. 6, 1919 as a private in Company E, 59th Pioneer Infantry.

He was a member of the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Church; Kingston Post 150, American Legion, and Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employes Kingston Lodge 898. Mr. Dittus was also a member of St. Mary's Church.

He is survived by his wife, the former Kathryn O'Brien; a daughter, Mrs. Delno Ellis of Kingston; two sons, Frederick J. Jr., and William F. Dittus, both of Kingston; two brothers, John H. Dittus of Kingston and William B. Dittus of Teaneck, N. J.; two sisters, Miss Catherine E. Dittus and Mrs. Florence M. Dibbell, both of Kingston. Eight grandchildren also survive. A brother, Rudolph C. Dittus, a prominent World War 1 veteran and former alderman-at-large, died August 8 of this year.

Funeral will be held from the Henry J. Bruck Funeral Home, 27 Smith Avenue, Thursday 9 a. m., thence to St. Mary's Church where at 9:30 a. m. a high Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home at any time.

Car Brought Up

had swung aboard the train at the last moment just as it was pulling out of Red Bank.

The train, with 100 passengers aboard, apparently ran three warning signals. It ripped through an automatic derailing device that jerked it from the rails but failed to stop it.

Jersey Central President E. T. Moore called it an unexplained accident.

Four of six crewmen aboard the train died, including engineer Lloyd Wilburn, 63, Red Bank, N.J.

Moore said Wilburn had an exceptional record in his 18 years as an engineer with the railroad and that a complete physical examination on July 21 showed him to be in top condition.

The engineer's wife said her husband showed no signs of either heart trouble or high blood pressure.

Skindivers, Navy underwater specialists and surface vesels recovered some bodies that floated free of the wreckage.

One of the first rescuers on the scene, boatman Ed McCarthy, said: "I tell you I never want to see anything like this again. It comes back to me how horrible it must have been for those people trapped under the water."

The train had made its way without incident along the north Jersey shore toward Jersey City and the ferry Terminals to New York City. En route it picked up New York-bound business executives, Wall Streeters and weekend vacationers headed back from the shore.

Bridgetender Patrick Corcoran, 55, pulled the switch that raised the elevator-type drawbridge to allow a barge to move through the heavily traveled waterway.

"There was nothing I could do," he said, as he told of watching helplessly as the train plunged into the water. "I heard the rumble. I can't describe my feelings. I never saw anything like this in my life . . . I never saw such a mess in my life."

Little Forewarning

Aboard the train as it rocked onto the 1½-mile trestle, there was little forewarning of disaster.

"All of a sudden the brakes went on and everything went topsy turvy," said Elwood E. DeHart, a 72-year-old passenger who survived.

Donald Weaver, 32, a Union Beach, N.J., clerk in a Manhattan bank, said: "I was reading my paper. I thought the car was derailed. The next thing I knew the car was full of water. I got out through a smashed window. I couldn't touch bottom. There were five or six of us in the water. We helped each other. .. .It all happened too fast, much too fast."

The train left Bay Head, a north Jersey shore resort, at 8:28 a.m. Its last stop before the trestle was Elizabethport, N.J., across Newark Bay from Bayonne.

Strung With Signals

The trestle approach to the open drawbridge was strung with warning signals, An amber caution signal was a mile from the draw. A quarter of a mile closer to the draw was another. And 550 feet from the draw was a red stop signal.

tion of any sentence, dismissed the first count and exonerated bail. Williams was charged with taking the car of his employes and going for a ride. Frederick Stang, who appeared for Williams, said the act was committed while defendant was under the influence of alcoholic beverage.

Civil Calendar

Prior to adjourning court until Wednesday at 10 a. m. when jurors will return, County Judge Bruhn called the civil calendar and the following cases were announced settled:

An action on contract for commission on sale of real estate, brought by Doris Calamar against Elwood L. Lasher and another. Richter & Werbalowsky for plaintiff and S. James Matthews for defendant.

An action for foreclosure of mechanic's lien brought by Edward McCabe against Warren W. Boyd, Jr., and others. Louis J. Canino for plaintiff and A. W. Lent, Stewart T. Schantz and Harp and Hafke for defendants.

John F. Kiernan against Richard Morris, and another, automobile negligence. Richter and Werbalowsky for plaintiff and Lewis & Lyons for defendants.

A trespass action brought by J. Kenneth Fricke and another against County of Ulster. Napoletano, Kelly and Saccoman for plaintiff and Donald H. McCann for defendant.

for statewide office and Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City will address the dinner.

Hogan's opponent, Rep. Kenneth B. Keating of Rochester, said he deplored talk at this time of recognizing Red China, a crack at Hogan.

Keating spoke in New York City Monday at the 24th annual meeting of the Polish Union of the United States. He asserted:

"I personally am unalterably opposed to diplomatic recognition . . .or to admitting Red China to the United Nations or to trading with that government."

Hogan has said he might favor entry of Red China into the U.N. but only under the most stringent conditions.

"At a time when our very survival is at stake," Keating commented, "it ill behooves any American to make rash statements, which contravene our announced foreign policy positions."

where he will make brief stops on the streets in the village. The party is expected to arrive in Kingston at about 12:30. The GOP candidate will make a 10-minute addess at the corner of Broadway and Pine Grove Avenue. Other sections of the city also will be visited.

Chamber Will Report Consolidation Vote

The results of the school consolidation issue, conducted by the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, will be reported at the regular meeting of the Board of Directors tonight.

The meeting takes place in the Governor Clinton Hotel starting at 7:30.

Return cards were mailed to all qualified voting members, representing 496 votes. In making this announcement today, president Robert L. Sabin stated that over 50% of the cards have been returned and a special committee was named to count the ballots and report at the meeting.

The referendum asked for an individual Yes or No opinion on school consolidation, without being influenced by any previous actions taken by individuals or groups of individuals.

Callanan Tug Is Still on Bottom

The tug, Callanan No. 1, which sank in about 25 feet of water in Rondout creek last Saturday morning, was still on the bottom today.

Attempts to raise the 70-foot work vessel owned by Callanan Road Improvement Co., South Rondout, have not been successful.

The tug sank about 6 a. m. Saturday when a barge loaded with gravel flipped over near the Callanan loading dock. The weight of the stone falling on the deck of the tug caused it to sink.

The tug had just come alongside the leaking barge with pumping equipment when the mishap occurred. The eight-man crew, with the exception of the pilot, Peter Tucker, 62, of 208 Third Avenue, escaped by leaping into the creek. Tucker was trapped in the pilot house but was rescued by smashing a window.

Efforts were made Monday to seal the engine room and pump it out through hose lines passed down the tug stack. It was impossible to empty the engine compartment, however, between low and high tides. At high tides the water is over the stack and refills the compartment.

It is reported that larger pumps are being used today in a similar attempt.

Steel parts for the Eddyville bridge were reported on their way up the Hudson from New York city this morning but the report could not be verified. The sunken tug blocks their passage to Eddyville.

BA Hears Report On Span Progress

The New York State Bridge Authority announced today that the business conducted at a special meeting held in the Bridge Authority office Monday covered many items of a routine nature.

The commissioners heard reports on the completion and sale of the Kingston Ferry Terminal, the repairs on the ferryboat "Dutchess," and the installation of the radar set on the ferryboat "Orange."

Additionally, the commissioners heard reports on the progress of the Newburgh-Beacon Bridge. The traffic engineering firm of Coverdale and Colpitts is expected to submit the first portion of their traffic survey report about the middle of November. Today's reports included their report on their activities since August 1.

Chairman John S. Stillman reported on the results of his conferences last week with officials of the State Department of Public Works and the legal and financial advisers of the authority regarding the advance of plans for financing and construction of the Newburgh-Beacon Bridge.

The commissioners authorized some much needed dock repair work at the Beacon Terminal of the Newburgh-Beacon Ferry.

'Back to School' Program Will Be Presented at MJM

A "Going Back to School" program will be presented at Myron J. Michael School Thursday 7:30 p. m. for parents and friends of students.

Parents will meet in the school auditorium for a brief greeting and for assignment to their children's homeroom. Following this period all present will report to their assigned rooms where the homeroom teacher will provide each parent with a copy of their child's schedule of classes. The remainder of the evening will be devoted to following a short period schedule of all classes.

Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria during the regularly scheduled lunch period.

Personal Income Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal income climbed to an annual rate of $355,600,000,000 last month—a record high for the third month in a row.

The Commerce Department reported Monday night that the rate of individual incomes rose another 1½ billion dollars during the month—providing a new indication the nation is making a rapid upward climb from the recession. The figure was nine billions above February's recession low of $346,400,000,000.

The report also aroused speculation that the government might end the current fiscal year next June 30 with less of a deficit than anticipated.

If income continues to rise, government tax revenues naturally will increase also. That would reduce, at least in part, the $12,200,000,000 deficit estimated last week for fiscal 1959.

Koenig Is Given Oath of Office As New Treasurer

Joseph J. Koenig, of 106 Andrew Street, who was appointed county treasurer to fill the unexpired term of the late Albert N. Cook, took the oath of office Monday afternoon in Albany. Koenig, Democratic nominee for the office, was named by Governor Harriman last Saturday.

The oath of office was administered at 2:45 p. m. Monday in the Red Room of the governor's chambers in the capitol. Frank A. Emma, deputy secretary of state, administered the oath of office.

Koenig in assuming office, said:

Grateful for Appointment

"I am most happy and grateful to accept this appointment to the office of county treasurer extended to me by our great governor Averell Harriman. I am exceptionally honored by the appointment and pledge to the people of the county of Ulster that I will carry forward the duties of that office with honesty, integrity and dispatch. My only regret is that this honor has come to me as a result of the death of my good friend, a fine and upstanding resident of our city, Albert N. Cook, with whom Mrs. Koenig served on the Board of Supervisors. His loss to the City of Kingston and the County of Ulster will be felt most keenly."

Present at the ceremony was Mrs. Anna Weiss Koenig, mother of County Treasurer Koenig; his wife, Mrs. Marie A. Koenig; his three sons, Joseph F. Koenig, Anthony Koenig and Frank J. Koenig, secretary to Mayor Edwin F. Radel; William J. Kelly, Democratic Chairman of Ulster County, and a number of Kingston and Ulster County friends of Mr. Koenig.

Governor Harriman was represented by Harry Lee of the governor's office who extended greetings from the governor and congratulated Mr. Koenig on his appointment; Joseph J. Kelly, deputy state comptroller and former mayor of Buffalo; Bernard A. Culloton of Kingston, deputy commissioner of Taxation and Finance; Raymond T. Schuler of Kingston, assistant to Chief Engineer, Department of Public Works; James Williams, director of Indian Affairs, State of New York, and a Deputy Director of the State Department of Commerce.

DuBois Is Named

On Monday the selection of Fred H. DuBois of New Paltz, as Republican candidate to oppose Koenig in the November election, was announced by the Ulster County Republican County Committee. DuBois is serving as supervisor from the Town of New Paltz. He is prominent in farming and dairy circles in the county and is a past master of New Paltz Grange, past president of the Ulster County Home Extension Service, a former member of the New Paltz School Board and serves as a member of the public health committee, and is chairman of the Community College Committee of the board of supervisors. He also serves as a director of the Ulster County National Farm Loan Association and is a past secretary-treasurer of Ulster County National Farm Loan Association and is a past secretary-treasurer of Ulster-Sullivan-Orange Holstein Club. He is prominent in New Paltz civic affairs and is a member of the consistory of the New Paltz Reformed Church and New Paltz Fire Department. DuBois is also actively interested in sports and is a member of New Paltz Rod and Gun Club.

Recess Talks On Formosa

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — The talks in Mysliewiecki Palace between the ambassadors of Red China and the United States on easing the Formosa crisis were in recess today.

U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam and Peiping's envoy, Wang Ping-nan, surprised Warsaw's diplomats Monday by sitting for 2 hours and 50 minutes at their first meeting. Then they adjourned until Thursday.

The length of the first meeting, diplomats believed, meant the two negotiators had approached the central problem without preliminary maneuvering.

In Washington, the State Department indicated what it considered was the core of the talks in the former hunting lodge of Poland's kings. A press officer said the purpose of the discussions was to "bring about a situation where use of force will not be taken, without prejudice to either side."

Tamarack Busboy Arrested on Use Of Guest's Auto

A busboy at Tamarack Lodge, Route 52, Greenfield Park, was arrested Sunday on a charge of petit larceny involving the use of an automobile without the permission of its owner.

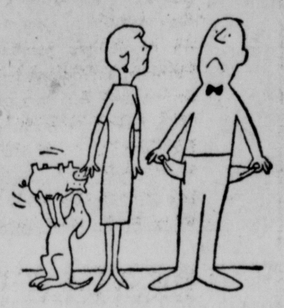

Frank Peter Cerminaro, Carbondale, Pa., was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Herbert Poppel of Kerhonkson, pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $25.

The car, owned by David Abramowitz of New York City, who was staying at the lodge, was taken from the parking lot there Saturday night, according to Trooper William Shurter of the Ellenville state police.

Cerminaro drove the 1952 sedan to Carbondale, returning the next morning. He parked the car alongside Route 52 about a mile east of Woodbourne about 6 a. m. and walked back to the lodge.

The car was recovered about 11 a. m. It was discovered that the engine had been "burned out." Cerminaro's arrest followed an investigation by state police.

To Rebuild Sections Of Taconic Parkway

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Harriman said Tuesday the state would rebuild an outmoded, 14-mile section of the Taconic Parkway, at a cost of about 16½ million dollars.

The governor said he had released funds so that plans could be drawn for rebuilding the section. It runs from the Hawthorne Circle to the Bear Mountain Parkway.

Harriman said the four-lane, undivided section built in the 1930s, was "no longer adequate for present traffic." He said its alignments and grades were not up to modern standards.

The plan is to reconstruct the section as a divided, six-lane highway, with a minimum mall width of 40 feet.

The work will extend over several years. No definite date for completion of the project has been set.

COOL ME, MADAM

Old women once held curative powers—or so folks believed. Their wrinkled hands laid on feverish brows were thought to cool the fever. Now, in this golden era of modern medicine, we have more reliable methods of reducing temperatures. But, remember, a temperature is only a symptom . . . not an illness in itself. Fevers have many causes . . . some minor . . . some serious. So, be sensible. When you or a member of your family is ill, let your doctor do the diagnosing and prescribing. Then, if medication is necessary, let us fill his prescription promptly and accurately.

SUPERVISION IN SPACE

The United States has gone on record favoring international supervision of outer space exploration. Its chief move in this direction has been to ask the United Nations General Assembly to set up a program for worldwide cooperation. Such a program, it is hoped, would help to assure that outer space "will be used solely for the benefit of all mankind."

Whether a United Nations program would be the best way to handle this matter is open to question. The question has been raised authoritatively by a group of American scientists who feel that space exploration ought to be supervised by the International Council of Scientific Unions. This body is affiliated with UNESCO but is not officially an organ of the United Nations.

The United States reportedly will not insist on adoption of its proposal, but is willing to accept any reasonable scheme for international control. That is good. The essential thing, at this stage, is to establish the basic point that space exploration is the business of all mankind. A multiplicity of separate national efforts might lead to trouble. The danger of this is heightened by the fact that most space experimentation is being done with military funds, if not actually under military auspices.

The sooner the world gets away from the notion that ventures into space merely will extend national efforts to gain military dominance, the better. That phrase about using outer space "solely for the benefit of all mankind" must be translated into reality.

Government soil bank payments to farmers for not growing certain crops over a three-year period will total more than a billion and a half dollars, A snug sum, considering that it's vacation pay.

THE ROLE OF CREDIT

There is little doubt that consumer credit has played a major role in the growth of U. S. production facilities during the past decade. Great Britain, cradle of the Industrial Revolution, has lagged behind in the use of this effective device.

That is changing. From now on, large British banks are going to loan money at low rates to support installment purchases. The program—known in England as "hire purchase," or sometimes "never-never"—will cover about the same range of consumer goods as in this country.

With the multiplicity of manufactured goods now available, there must be installment credit to support purchases. If increased production is our goal, credit for consumers must follow as winter follows summer.

The Census Bureau reports that the country has 32 times as many woman bartenders as in 1900. Statistics do not show whether there was a similar feminine increase on the customers' side of the bar.

BUSINESS PROSPECTS

Economists look to the time immediately following the Labor Day holiday for hints as to the level of business activity during the coming year. With regard to retail sales, department store experience nationwide has, so far, been mixed.

Soft goods lines, including clothing and other back-to-school items, have been selling well. In the hard goods lines, which include household appliances, the story has been more somber. These sales in many areas are sharply below those of 1957 and probably are still suffering from the effects of recession.

As is usual during this time of year, the weather is playing an important role. In some sections of the country which have been subjected to abnormally warm weather, there is little interest in buying warm clothing. Merchants hope for cool, crisp weather, which often acts as a vigorous stimulant for retail sales.

There are numerous imponderables besides the weather. Business activity is affected by international conditions, too. Generally speaking, however, the prospects look good. Many merchants are going into the fall season optimistic about future sales.

'These Days'

COUNTING CHICKENS

To change the subject, there is a Congressional election in the offing and many things are likely to happen which may be of interest next November. For instance, the election of Governor Edmund S. Muskie to the United States Senate is regarded by Democrats as an augury of good fortune, it being an ancient truism that as Maine goes, so goes the United States. The reason for the adage is that Maine elections are held earlier and therefore the Yankees up there record their decision before other Americans even think about it.

Of course, the population of Maine, as of all New England, has rapidly been changing in recent years. Maine, like Massachusetts and Connecticut, is no longer as Yankee as it used to be and certainly not as Republican. The Civil War has long been forgotten and Governor Muskie, who is of Polish origin and who is a Roman Catholic, is the most popular man in the state. He was elected to the United States Senate by an overwhelming vote.

One of the telling issues in the Maine campaign was Bernard Goldfine, the generous gift-giver from Boston who rescued New England's textile industry from going South. At any rate, the Maine folks did not like what was testified about Senator Frederick Payne, and apparently for all the free-loading that Mr. Goldfine provided, he is not as popular as he should be.

Down South, in Florida, Claude Pepper, once a figure in Washington, tried to make a comeback in the Democratic primaries and failed. Claude Pepper is what might be called a radical New Dealer, way over on the side of those who would change the world, perhaps by oratory, and by doing favors to those for whom favors should not be done. He was once a United States Senator and did not exactly adorn the Senate chamber.

In California, Senator Knowland's fight to become Governor of the state is taking on momentum. William Knowland stayed in Washington overly long, doing his duty as Republican leader of the United States Senate. It makes his present campaign more difficult. California is an individualistic state, with patterns all of its own. Knowland will have to appeal to the women of the state, if he is to be elected Governor.

This is certain: Whether Knowland will be elected Governor or not, he will not return to the United States Senate and that means that the Republicans in that body will have to find a new leader, someone in their party of the intellect and parliamentary skill of Senator Lyndon Johnson, the Democratic leader. Such men are rare. Robert A. Taft selected Knowland as his successor because he recognized that Knowland possessed talents and attributes of Senatorial leadership and also a noble character.

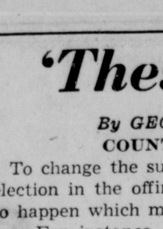

It is difficult to say whom the Republicans will accept in Knowland's place. Leadership does not merely involve choice; it also requires acceptance. The leader must be a man whom others are willing to follow. There must not only be competence, but confidence. Men in both parties felt that way about Robert A. Taft, William Knowland and Lyndon Johnson.

Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona, if reelected, could aspire to one phase of Republican leadership, namely, moral confidence and intellectual integrity. He is a bit too independent, but so were Taft and Knowland. One would not think of making a deal with such men although Taft was a very understanding leader who understood the other man's problems. As a matter of fact, that was an important element in Taft's political strength.

In New York State, the campaign has not yet started in earnest. Nobody has yet made a telling speech. It could be a hard-fought campaign with violent attacks all around, but sofar none of that has happened. Here everybody in both parties seems to be angry at everybody else and they all take photographs smiling at each other. Maybe, if there is no excitement in the campaign, only the politicians will come out to vote.

In Connecticut, it would seem as though the Democrats have it for the United States Senate where Thomas Dodd is running against the incumbent William Purtell who has been in Washington for a term without excitement. Dodd, at any rate, is putting up an interesting campaign.

More on this anon.

Change of Life 'Symptoms' Often Have Other Causes

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Judging by an enormous number of letters I receive, it is exceedingly difficult for one going through the change of life to realize that the peculiar sensations they often experience may not have anything to do with the menopause at all.

For example, one correspondent wrote recently that since she has been in the menopause she has been getting "sinking spells, dizziness, extreme nervousness, fatigue, fears, anxieties and numerous other symptoms."

She adds, however, the significant sentence, "I was always high strung and nervous previously, but I have gotten worse."

I should not want to say that none of these symptoms is remotely connected with the change of life, but it is certainly true that many women attribute every sensation, whether physically or emotionally produced, to the menopause.

"Hot flashes" is the unpleasant sensation which is complained of most frequently. These feelings, unlike other symptoms associated with the change of life, such as fatigue, headache, dizziness, nervousness and irritability, are usually considered the result of lessened secretion of female sex hormones (estrogens).

In many cases, significant symptoms, although present, are not severe enough to require treatment. When treatment is needed, there are several preparations available now which can be given by mouth and which have fairly long actions.

Before giving them, however, the first step is to make sure some definite disease is not present. If there is no disease, the woman going through the change should recognize that she has nothing to worry about and that her symptoms will subside eventually, with or without treatment.

Perhaps what bothers more women during the menopause than anything else are emotional changes. One, for example, wrote that she was moody, gets exceedingly despondent and cries easily.

This again is not unusual, but is perhaps more often an exaggeration of personality qualities already present than it is the result of lessened hormone production in the ovaries.

Another thing which many women are greatly concerned about at this time is the possibility of conception during the latter stages of the menopause.

I do not want to make too strong a statement on this since many pregnancies have occurred as late as 52 or even 55 years of age. But there is comparatively slight chance on conceiving past the age of 50 when a year or more has elapsed since the last period.

Probably the most important thing for women in the menopause to do—even including those who need hormone treatment—is to adjust their mental and emotional outlook.

Both mental and physical activity (reasonably suited to the age and physical condition of the woman) are helpful to take the mind off unnecessary worry over what is only a temporary situation.

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Dr. T. Keith Glennan has arrived in town to take over — not just the biggest job in the United States or the world—but an assignment that covers the moon, sun and stars. He's administrator of the newly-created National Aeronautics and Space Agency — NASA. It's a staggering responsibility.

Item three in the eight-point statement of objectives in the new space act assigns NASA: "The development and operation of vehicles capable of carrying instruments, equipment, supplies and living organisms through space."

To set up the agency to do this, Dr. Glennan, former president of Cast Institute of Technology and a farmer member of the Atomic Energy Commission, has opened offices in the old Cosmos Club building. It's just a good golf ball satellite drive from the White House, if you can miss the Lafayette Park trees.

In the office next to Dr. Glennan will be his deputy administrator, Dr. Hugh L. Dryden, for the last 11 years director of National Advisory Committee on Aeronautics.

NACA IS BEING TRANSMUTED INTO NASA, if that's the proper word. NACA occupies the nine-story building next to the Cosmos Club, so the new arrangement is quite cozy.

There is not telling how big NASA will become eventually or how much money it will spend. It could be as high as a billion dollars a year — or higher.

The first year's space agency budget is 300 million dollars. This includes 100 millions for carrying on NACA research programs. About half of this work for the past year has been on rocket and missile work for the armed services.

Also, ever since last April Dr. Dryden and the NACA staff have been doing preliminary work on shifting the agency from straight aeronautics into space. This follows a plan worked out by Dr. James T. Killian, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, now President Eisenhower's science adviser.

A THREE-PRONGED PROGRAM has been tentatively set up for NASA first-year operations. All three parts are to be carried on at the same time. First is to develop space technology in rockets, motors, instruments and guidance. Second is to put satellites around the earth, moon and planets. Third is to put man into space and bring him back alive.

Administrator Glennan has been reviewing this program in the three weeks since he was sworn into office. As a starter, he says he will grant no interviews, make no speeches and write no articles — until he knows what he's doing.

One interesting detail is that just as soon as the first year NASA program is set, Dr. Glennan will have to begin planning his second year program for presentation to the Budget Bureau and to the new Congress which meets in January.

It is considered likely that NASA will take over and continue the Navy's Vanguard and satellite research program at the end of the International Geophysical Year in December.

There is a possibility that NASA will take over civilian applications of the Army and Air force lunar probes now being run by Department of Defense Advance Research Projects Agency under Roy W. Johnson. ARPA authority expires in February, though it could be renewed for military space vehicle development.

NACA HAD AN AUTHORIZED personnel strength of 8,200. NASA will hire an additional 800, initially. Approximately 650 will be assigned to a new 1.5-million-dollar space technology center being built at Beltsville, Md.

The other 150 will be in NASA headquarters. Their principal function will be in letting contracts with universities and industrial research organizations for development work in fields like electronics, missile guidance and control outside the atmosphere, in which NACA scientists do not have competence.

The new space agency will not be just a research agency such as NACA was. NASA will be an operating agency. It can let contracts for million-pound-thrust rockets and it will actually fire non-military missiles and satellites and space vehicles.

In short, NASA is going to be big business. Its operations in time may rival those of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Blaming Adams for Maine Called an Alibi of Losers

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 — Should Sherman Adams be sacrificed on the altar of political expediency as so many of the Republican candidates for office this autumn are demanding? If he resigns his post as assistant to the President, will this dispose of the matter? Will the Democrats promptly stop discussing it, or will they regard the resignation as a confession of guilt and hammer away at the issue even harder?

The mere asking of these questions points up the dilemma faced by both President Eisenhower and Mr. Adams this week, now that the latter has returned from his vacation. The problem doesn't involve any new facts. For the underlying situation is just the same as it was when the political furor over the acceptance of gifts by Mr. Adams from his close personal friend Bernard Goldfine, first hit the headlines in June.

Point to Maine

It now is being said, of course, that the Maine election a week ago accentuated the importance of the issue. This sounds like an alibi from the side that, for other reasons, lost the election and from those weak-kneed candidates among the Republicans who now fear they may lose out, too—also for other reasons.

Actually, it will do no good, politically speaking, for Sherman Adams to resign voluntarily. There might have been last June a slight benefit politically if President Eisenhower himself had asked for the resignation. But if done at this late date, the Democrats would immediately ask why Mr. Eisenhower waited so long—and they would continue to try to smear his Administration anyhow as somehow "tainted."

No Evidence of Guilt

If the Republican nominees who are clamoring for the scalp of Sherman Adams would exhibit some of the courage that is occasionally manifested even by candidates for public office, they would turn the Sherman Adams issue around and take a leaf from the book of the militant "liberals" whose battle cry in recent years has been that a man should be presumed innocent until he is proved guilty and should not be made to suffer because of "guilt by association."

It's better sometimes to lose an election in order to reaffirm and eventually vindicate a principle. Not a single piece of evidence exists to show that Sherman Adams violated any law or exercised any improper influence or achieved any improper objective. His acceptance of gifts from a personal friend turned out to be "imprudent" because of the innuendoes publicized by a hostile investigating committee in Congress, but it is true that Mr. Adams performed exactly the same service for many other citizens from whom he never received any gifts.

A Citizen's Right

For the executive offices staff to make inquiries from other departments or agencies of the government in behalf of the citizens — all of whom have a right to "petition the government for a redress of grievances" — is to apply the first amendment in the Bill of Rights of the Constitution.

But the politicians, who know that suspicion does not constitute proof of guilt, are nevertheless groping for a scapegoat. Somehow, they believe that they can curry favor with the voters by coming out for the dismissal of Mr. Adams. This assumes that the public has been misled or cannot weigh the truth when it is fully presented on the stump.

So far as meeting the issue raised by the Democrats, there is the Biblical argument that only he who is without sin may cast the first stone. The record of convictions and imprisonment of several persons who held office under the last Democratic administration could make interesting rebuttal material for the Republicans to use if the Democratic candidates want to risk a revival of those controversies and a reminder of some actual and undisputed cases of corruption.

Gift-Giving Abolition

There might be, to be sure, some constructive purpose served by a voluntary resignation by Sherman Adams if, by so doing, he could bring about the immediate abolition of all gift-giving to public officials—including, of course, the large sums of money contributed during and between campaigns through the efforts of labor unions and corporation executives. If what Sherman Adams did was wrong, then every member of the House or Senate who has received large campaign funds from special interests should for the remainder of his term disqualify himself from voting in favor of any legislation affecting those special interests—business or labor unions or any company in which he personally owns any stock.

But would this prove anything? Can't a man accept a gift from a friend or a campaign contribution and still be honest and decide questions in the public interest? It's a principle worth fighting for, and the battle will be lost if Sherman Adams is compelled to live the rest of his life under the stigma or implication of dishonesty which so many of today's politicians would thoughtlessly place upon him. President Eisenhower has not seemed to be the kind of public official who would yield to expediency and sacrifice an honest man.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Some time ago Tom Walsh of 73 Boulevard, Kingston loaned me some old postal cards of Kingston. He has a very fine collection. Another hobby of his, which he calls his winter hobby, is collecting pictures and information on old cars. He just loaned me a booklet called "All American Automobile Record, complete listing from A to Z." It is compiled and copyrighted by Frank D. Sampier and I see it sells for $1.00. In the foreword, the author says that he did some 15 years of research to run down his information and that some of the facts are missing and he would be pleased if readers could add to it. He invites correspondence but he wants substantial proof of any facts given. He went back to 1895 books and magazines and other sources for his data. His book was printed in 1954 and at that time his address was Laramie, Wyoming.

Sampier gives names of cars in alphabetical order, place of manufacture and date when they were built. He does not have full data on each car name. He has about 60 names to a page and about 36 pages, that covers a lot of cars. He has a separate list of steamers and electric cars in the back of the book. He has bits of information sandwiched in between like: "Oldsmobile for 1910 was so large and high off the ground that it had two running boards on each side, one above the other." The names of some of these cars were: Magnolia, the handsome Marmon (1903-33); the Maxwell (1910-25); the Adria, made in Batavia, N. Y. 1921-22; the Auto-Bug, 1909-10 made in Norwalk, Ohio.

Walsh naturally looked for cars made in Kingston. The Vaughn is listed made by the Vaughn Car Co. of Kingston, 1914. The Campbell, made here 1916-21. The Emerson made by the Emerson Motors Co. of Kingston in 1916-17. The Remmington is first listed made at Ilion, N. Y. in 1900-04 and then at Kingston in 1901-14. The New York Tire and Truck Co. of Kingston, made a steamer called New York in 1900. A. R. King Mfg. Co. of 76 Prince Street are listed as truck manufacturers in our City Directory, but not listed in Sampier's book. William H. Kolts of Foxhall Avenue corner Hasbrouck Avenue made automobile bodies. Wyckoff Church and Partridge of 85 Grand Street also listed as auto manufacturers around 1911-12. The Peckham Motor Truck and Wheel Co. of Tremper Avenue near Grand Street (1897) is also not listed in Sampier's listings. Perhaps other readers know something about these Kingston automobiles.

It seems the old Hauck Brewing Co. changed from horse-drawn trucks by receiving one of the first commercial Emerson trucks made here on June 12, 1911. The police department had a four or five passenger Emerson, costing around $395. I think this Emerson Motors Co. was where the Electrol plant is now. Walsh has a hand signed letter from Henry Ford in a large scrap book of original photographs of old cars from the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D. C. One picture is of 1899 three-wheel Knox Gas Auto, built by Harry A. Knox. In 1909 this car was driven in the parade of the Hudson - Fulton celebration in New York City and at that time was the oldest car in the line of march. Walsh has a good photo of the Glidden Tour of antique autos (some 400). To be eligible a car had to be built before 1927. Oldest car in this parade was a 1901 Knox.

1958 Huck Finn Is Foiled Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Eleven-year-old Michael Sayer's attempt to emulate Huck Finn has been thwarted again. The wandering boy is back in the custody of juvenile authorities.

Michael, who skipped out of the Children's Shelter Sunday, was sent to the Bronx Youth House Monday, after a visit to Children's Court.

A workman, Ernest Ramirez, spotted the boy near a construction site and nabbed him after a brief chase. Raimrez who had recognized Michael from a newspaper account of the boy's adventures, turned him over to police.

A policeman found Michael wandering in midtown Manhattan Sunday and took him to the shelter. The boy said he is an orphan and used to live in Utica, N. Y., but residents in the neighborhood he named had never heard of his family.

Michael slept at the shelter, ate there twice, went to church, then took off again.

He said he spent Sunday night in the construction project and told authorities Monday:

"It's like Huck Finn. He didn't have a mother, or go to school, and he smoked a corncob pipe.

Police have been unable to verify the boy's story that he is an orphan.

Concessions May Help

Dismal Is Outlook For Assembly Parley

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dismal describes the outlook for the three-month meeting of the United Nations General Assembly, opening today.

Its biggest immediate problem: the Red Chinese attack on the Quemoy and Matsu islands and the American refusal to let the Reds take them by force.

Secretary of State Dulles and Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko will tangle over this. Only an optimist can expect a solution in the U.N.

Much Depends on Warsaw

For, meanwhile, the American and Red Chinese ambassadors to Poland will be discussing the same thing in Warsaw.

Nothing is likely to happen in the U.N. anyway until there's time to see what happens in Warsaw.

And nothing is likely to happen in Warsaw unless the American government is willing to make big concesions to the Chinese Communists.

But Dulles and President Eisenhower got themselves into a kind of box on concessions.

First, they indicated they might make concessions to the Reds if they combed their hair right.

But then Eisenhower said letting the Reds shoot their way into Quemoy and Matsu without fighting them would be appeasement.

It would still be appeasement if this country let the Reds have the islands on the promise they wouldn't shoot their way in if they got them for free.

New Move for Seating

No doubt the Soviet Union will make a renewed effort to get Red China a seat in the U.N.

But the United States, which acts as if the Red Chinese didn't exist—even though it still may have to fight them and is willing to negotiate with them—has blocked a U.N. seat for them before.

It will maneuver to do so again. It probably has enough friends in the U.N. to get the Assembly once again to sidetrack this issue for a later date and another year.

But there's a chilling side to all this: while Quemoy, Matsu, Chiang Kai-shek and his enemies, the Red Chinese, are windily debated in the U.N., the actual crisis around those offshore islands still remains and could burst into war.

But other things face the U.N. too, and with just about the same small chance of solution.

For instance: disarmament. There'll be some debate but any real progress in that field more likely will come from direct American-Soviet talks.

Other Problems

Then there's the question of getting American troops out of Lebanon, where they landed July 15 at the request of President Chamoun, and British troops out of Jordan, where they landed two days later at King Hussein's request.

The world reaction to the entry of American forces in the Middle East was so bad from the beginning that this country has seemed willing to withdraw if it could be done gracefully.

Gen. Fuad Chehab has since been elected president and will take office Sept. 24. By then or soon after, at Chehab's request, the last of the American troops should have departed.

Not so with the British troops in Jordan, where King Hussein sits on a shaky throne. He's shown no signs of wanting to see his British protectors depart. And it's hard to see what the U.N. can do to nudge them out.

Crushed With Grief

Seaman Is Unable To Shed Light On Wife's Death

NEW YORK (AP) — Seaman William Bertelsen, crushed with grief, can shed no light on the brutal murder of his pretty young wife.

The 27-year-old civilian oiler in the Military Sea Transportation Service was flown here Monday after his ship docked in Newfoundland.

Told at first that his 21-year-old Bavarian-born wife, Ingebord, had met with an accident, he was informed en route that she had been murdered while he was at sea.

Bertelsen wept intermittently during the trip, a stewardess said.

Mrs. Bertelsen was stabbed to death by a man late Saturday in Inwood Hill Park. A 10-year-old boy playing in a tree saw the slaying from about 200 feet away.

Police disclosed that six boys had seen Mrs. Bertelsen talking with a dark-haired man in the park.

From the boys' descriptions, a police artist prepared a sketch of the man as a guide for detectives.

Bertelsen was questioned here for more than an hour, but police said they thought Bertelsen could be of no help in solving the murder.

Police concentrated their investigation on the neighborhood where Mrs. Bertelsen lived and worked on the theory that she probably was acquainted with the slayer.

854th Engineers Return From Two Weeks Training

Saturday, 350 officers and men of the 854th Engineer Battalion (Hv Cons) returned to their homes. Arriving in Kingston, early that evening. Capt. W. Waldele commander of H & S Company, said, "I feel that all the officers and men of my unit have derived a great deal from the last two weeks, The training was excellent and it was enthusiastically received."

The Battalion, commanded by Lt. Colonel Carl E. Redman, received many forms of training, such as: Surveying, heavy equipment operation, bridge building and soil analysis. The training period culminated with a two day bivouac in the field. A combat situation was simulated and the men participated in a night march, perimiter defense problem, mine warfare and compass problems.

Reverting to inactive reserve status, the units will continue their training at weekly meetings.

Route 209 Plans Will Be Main Topic at Meeting

Plans to expand Route 209 Improvement Association will top the agenda for a meeting of the group to be held Thursday evening at the Park Lane Hotel at Huguenot at 8 o'clock. The meeting will be for all members and all persons interested in the improvement of Route 209.

Sidney Sinick, president of the organization, said earlier this week the board of directors indicated at their meeting last week the desire to try and interest groups and organizations along Route 209 in Pennsylvania to band with the local highway group to work for an improved roadway from end to end.

At present the Route 209 Improvement Association efforts have been directed toward improvement and reconstruction of the key highway from Kingston to Port Jervis.

Following a trip to Albany last week to confer with state officials the following statement was issued jointly by Mayor Eugene Glusker of Ellenville and Mayor James Murphy of Port Jervis:

"We are eminently satisfied with our conference at Albany. We were promptly and courteously received and had a thorough discussion of Route 209 from end to end. The committee told the representatives of the Department of Public Works that we considered the area which should receive immediate consideration for improvement in that from Spring Glen to Wurtsboro."

"At the conclusion of the conference we were given assurance that immediate action would be taken to instruct the Binghamton District Office to put the Spring Glen-Wurtsboro section on the planning board."

At the meeting Thursday evening at Huguenot, Mayor Glusker and Mayor Murphy will make their official report to the membership.

Reuther Warns Strike May Hit Ford Wednesday

DETROIT (AP) — United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther said today the union definitely will strike the Ford Motor Co. Wednesday if no contract settlement is made before then.

Reuther was asked about the chance of a postponement as he entered another bargaining session with Ford.

"The strike deadline stands," he declared. "We have no intention of postponing it, but we are still hopeful we can reach an agreement."

Ford, General Motors and Chrysler yesterday made contract proposals to the union calling for a three-year agreement.

Reuther, who has personally taken part in the Ford talks the past week, described the Ford offer as "deficient in many respects." But he made counter proposals at a bargaining session last night and said the offer provided a basis for further discussion.

President to some, but not total, reliance on a buildup of pressures on the part of Little Rock parents to get their teen-agers back into classrooms. At least 100 idled Little Rock students already have tried to enroll at other schools in the state.

There also is talk in Little Rock of reopening the public schools on a private, segregated basis. The Little Rock school board asked Faubus to advise it how that could be done "with assurance of full accreditation under North Central Assn. standards."

Federal Position Seen

The federal position may be summarized this way:

There is no existing law under which the federal government can force a state to operate a system of public schools. If the entire system is closed down, that's it, and the matter is closed so far as Washington is concerned.

But legal authorities say a constitutional question may be raised in selective school closures designed to avoid obedience of a Supreme Court order. They say that when a state offers given grades of education in one area and withholds them in others, it may be possible to argue successfully in court that children in the latter areas are being denied the equal protection of the laws guaranteed by the 14th Amendment.

Says Ike Speech Averts Shooting War With China

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Army Brucker, back from a Far East tour, says President Eisenhower's no-appeasement speech last week has averted a shooting war with Red China.

Brucker said the Formosa situation has eased but still is serious.

"The President's utterances have done a lot to cool it off," he told newsmen on arriving at National Airport from his three-week tour. Without Eisenhower's statement "this would have been a shooting war," he said.

Brucker said he found Formosa calm with "no hysteria, no panic."

McDonald Gets Confidence Vote

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — United Steelworkers delegates turned to convention business today after giving a colorful vote of confidence to David J. McDonald, the union president.

The vote, accompanied by a demonstration, was carried without dissent. Opponents of the incumbent leadership remained silent.

Donald C. Rarick of McKeesport, Pa., leader of the rebel group, described the demonstration of support for 55-year-old McDonald as a rehearsed farce.

"The rank and file is damn mad about the way this thing has been rigged and by the time we get through with McDonald he'll be a mighty sorry boy," Rarick said.

His group calls itself the Dues Protest Committee.

Supporters of McDonald cited him as a labor statesman who had brought great gains to the 1,200,000-member USW.

The show of confidence in McDonald began with the reading of a resolution and developed into a parade of hundreds of placard-carrying delegates marching with band music to the stage to shake his hand.

The vote marked the third time in the opening session of the USW's convention that expected opposition to union policy failed to develop. The others were on convention procedure.

Big Indian Forum Resumes Meetings

The Growing Edge Forum of Big Indian formerly known as the Parapsychology Class, has started its regular meetings every Wednesday evening at the homes of the members.

This week's meeting was at the home of Jack Rubin, and next week the group will meet at Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Capone's home, Big Indian. An extensive program has been planned for the coming year, with outside speakers once a month. The study topic for the fall will be "The New Psychology and Religion," with the meetings conducted by James Orser, chairman.

Three trips were made during the summer; one to a spiritualist summer camp meeting, another to the Philosophical Society's summer camp to hear Dr. and Mrs. Fritz Kunz, and the third to Virginia Beach to learn more about Edgar Cayce and the Association for Research and Enlightenment.

Anyone interested may join by contacting the secretary, Mrs. Vincent Capone of Big Indian.

On Integration

Reprieve Sought In School Order

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Lawyers for the city of Charlottesville go before U.S. Circuit Judge Simon Sobeloff today seeking a reprieve from an integration order that would close two of the city's largest schools.

The conference with Sobeloff in Baltimore appeared to offer the city its last avenue of escape from compliance this month with the order signed last week by U.S. Dist. Judge John Paul.

Should Sobeloff decline to stay the order directing the enrollment of two Negroes in Lane High School and 10 in Venable Elementary School, closure of both schools under Virginia law would be all but assured. The two schools are scheduled to open next Monday.

Sobeloff last Thursday refused to stay in order by Judge Paul directing the admission of 22 Negro children to Warren County High School, about 80 miles northwest of Charlottesville. As a result, the 1,000-pupil high school at Front Royal—only high school in the county-was shut down.

In Norfolk, where six schools are threatened with closure it was revealed that a number of Norfolk secondary school pupils have been enrolled in South Norfolk schools, each paying $180 tuition.

The Norfolk school board, in compliance with a federal court order, has told U.S. Judge Walter Hoffman it is prepared to enroll 17 Negro students in white schools at their opening next Monday.

Truman, Ave Due To Reach Here 3:30 on Thursday

Former President Harry S. Truman, Governor Averell Harriman and Frank Hogan, Democratic candidate for United States Senate, will arrive in Kingston at 3:30 p. m. Thursday.

They will arrive at the Thruway where they will be met by the Democratic candidates of Ulster County in addition to Mayor Edwin F. Radel and city officials.

In order that the people of Kingston may see the visitors, they will follow the following route at a slow pace through Washington Avenue to North Front Street, to Crown Street, to John Street, to Fair Street, to Pearl Street, to Broadway and to Pine Grove Avenue.

At Pine Grove Avenue Truman, Hogan and Gov. Harriman will speak. At 4 p. m. they will leave the city by way of Broadway, Clinton Avenue, North Front Street, and Washington Avenue.

In the motorcade from the Thruway will be the following people: Christopher D. Morris, candidate for Congress; Harriet Allen Kerr, candidate for State Senate; John J. Gaffney, candidate for State Assembly; John J. Schick, candidate for district attorney; Joseph J. Koenig, candidate for treasurer; Dr. J. R. Moss, candidate for coroner; Mayor Radel, Hess Kaye, William Kelly and others.

Publishers Name T-U Man as New State President

LAKE PLACID, N. Y. (AP) — Gene Robb, publisher of the Albany Times-Union, today was elected president of the New York State Publishers assn.

He will succeed Clifford J. Nuhn, publisher of the Poughkeepsie New Yorker.

Fritz S. Updike, general manager of the Rome Sentinel, was elected vice president; Frank Baker, general manager of the Yonkers Herald-Statesman, secretary-treasurer.

Directors chosen for three-year terms were:

General Managers William J. Kemble of the Lockport Union Sun & Journal, John F. Bertram of the Geneva Times and William M. Kessler of the Gloversville Leader-Herald.

The election was held on the final day of a three-day meeting.

The closing day's program included presentations by Don U. Bridge, general manager of the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle and the Rochester Times-Union, and J. Warren McClure, business manager of the Burlington Vt. Free Ledger.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The overall stock market average, boosted by the rise of industrials to a record peak, edged into historic high ground early this afternoon. Trading was active.

Pivotal stocks rose from fractions to a point in a follow-through from Monday's rise, the biggest since Jan. 3.

At the start, the ticker tape laged behind floor transactions for a period of nine minutes.

Rails continued to gain, giving technical confirmation to the upsurge of industrials. The steels, motors, nonferrous metals and airlines were in demand.

Woodstock P-TA Discusses Funds for Pupils, Teachers

Woodstock Parent Teachers Association discussed the creation of a fund for Woodstock school graduates, scholastically qualified, who need money for college expenses.

Another topic of discussion, which highlighted a largely attended opening session of the 1958-59 school season, pointed up the possibility of establishing a second fund to be used by Woodstock school teachers who are earning credits while teaching.

These ideas and others which the PTA could support this coming year will be on the agenda for discussion at the next meeting on Oct. 2.

The first meeting attracted a large number of parents and teachers. The majority of those present signed up for membership and all Woodstockers not able to attend are urged to contact Mrs. Vivian Moscowitz to join and support the organization.

Mrs. Greene Speaks

Mrs. Robert Greene, the new president, opened the meeting with a welcoming speech and then introduced the teaching staff for the new school year. Principal Walter S. Van Wagenen, committee chairman and members were also introduced.

The following are committee chairmen:

Budget, Charles Klothe; Dance, Ben March; Fund Raising, Betty Schwarz; Hospitality, Sylvia Horsey, Jean Albrecht; Membership, Vivian Moscowitz; Program, Walter Balk; Publicity, Sara and James Mulligan; Safety, Allen Albrecht.

Mrs. Greene spoke briefly on the subject: "Our PTA, Who Are We, Where Have We Been and Where Are We Going."

The resignation due to health of Mrs. Dorothy Hughes, first vice-president, was regretfully accepted. Mrs. Greene appointed a nominating committee of Inger Walker, chairman; Vivian Moscowitz and Mrs. Douglas Franckling to present nominations for a new first vice president at the next meeting.

Announcement was made of the county PTA meeting to be held on Monday, Oct. 6, from 9:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. at the Capri Restaurant in Port Ewen. Anyone interested in attending and learning different phases of PTA work, please contact Mrs. Greene before Sept. 29.

Inspect School

After the meeting, parents visited the classrooms and were able to inspect equipment, books and working materials the children use. The teachers and parents discussed what the teachers hoped to accomplish and what was expected in the way of cooperation by the parents and children.

Later, over coffee, several stimulating ideas for PTA were discussed. Throughout the evening, members of committees wore original name cards designating their committee. These were made by the hospitality committee whose pleasant influence was felt throughout the evening. The committee was headed by Mrs. Sylvia Horsey, assisted by Mrs. Jean Albrecht.

Rotron Profit Share Total Hits $72,598

J. C. van Rijn, president of Rotron Manufacturing Company of Woodstock, last Friday distributed its fourth quarterly profit sharing, as well as the quarterly reserve, for the company's fiscal year ending June 30, 1958.

The total, $72,598.00, was up 14 per cent from the corresponding figure of last year and the greatest amount ever paid out by the company. The total profit sharing fund for the entire year was up 10.1 per cent and reached $135,306.00, also a record. These profits are distributed to all employes without distinction of rank and on the proportional basis of everyone's base pay.

van Rijn disclosed that the company's shipments over the year were up 9.9 per cent and that there was a healthy backlog of orders on the books. These business figures had been achieved notwithstanding the recession and without sacrifices of profits, resulting in the corporation's percentage of profit for the year being exactly the same as that realized during the previous fiscal year.

The business outlook remained optimistic. This was partly due to considerable effort made by Rotron in devising new and ever more challenging products and manufacturing methods. van Rijn complimented all employes on their good showing and on the success achieved.

clear-armed striking force just in case.

The hottest plane in the U.S. air arsenal, the F104 Starfighter, has begun to fly over Formosa as part of the U.S. protective force should fighting spread beyond the offshore islands.

To Defend Naval Vessels

The American Taiwan (Formosa) Defense Command also said Marine Air Group 11, which came here for joint U.S.-Nationalist amphibious maneuvers, has been assigned to defend naval vessels. These presumably include the U.S. 7th Fleet warships escorting Nationalist supply ships to within three miles of Quemoy.

Both U.S. and Nationalist planes escorted eight Nationalist cargo planes which parachuted supplies to Little Quemoy, two miles from the main outpost, Sunday. They probably went along with four cargo planes Monday also. Both American and Nationalist sources denied reports of dogfights with Chinese jet fighters during the air drops.

The drops on Little Quemoy were perfectly executed, said three newsmen who flew back from Quemoy today. They said they had heard drops were made on Quemoy itself last week.

Apathy in . . .

mitted by the American Municipal Assn. in an effort to determine "the municipal viewpoint on Civil Defense 1958."

The association, in a summation of replies received from cities throughout the nation, had this to say:

". . . The United States continues to be extraordinarily vulnerable to destruction by atomic attack and this vulnerability . . . is so great as to seriously restrict the possibilities of the United States to deal effectively with the international problems that confront it and all other free nations."

"What is needed now," the summary said, "is development of reception areas, stockpiling of essential emergency supplies outside target areas, and the building of shelter against blast as well as against thermal and radiological hazards. . . ."

A fifth New York City, Schenectday, whose reply was not contained in the breakdown of answers to the questionnaire, nevertheless commented on the need for federal leadership.

In another phase of the problem, the Yonkers reply said that with the exception of a few of the larger manufacturing plants "we have had little encouragement or cooperation from industry."

"The main reason seems to be reluctance to tolerate any interference with production.

Will Show Wares

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union and the United States are going to show each other a sample of their latest wares at big exhibits in New York and Moscow next summer.

The two countries agreed to it Monday under a broad cultural agreement signed last January.

Both nations will display exhibits in science, technology and culture.

The Soviet exhibit is set tentatively to begin in mid-June at the huge New York Coliseum. The U.S. exhibit will open July 1 in Gorki Park in the heart of Moscow.

Teen-Age Driver Has Close Call In Esopus Mishap

A Kingston teen-age girl had a narrow escape early this morning when her car went out of control on Route 9W in Esopus, ran into a field and turned over a couple of times.

Flevie Brandow, 18, of 42 Ravine Court, reportedly suffered lacerations of the lower back, contusions of the left ear and right thigh.

She was proceeding south on Route 9W at the time.

Following her, apparently unknown to the girl, was a state police car with Troopers George Foster and R. J. Brothwell of the Highland station. They were clocking her speed.

The troopers reported that Miss Brandow ran off the right side of the highway, swung back across the road, losing control of the car and plunging into a field.

In the field the car struck some tree stumps, rolled over a "couple of times" and came to rest on its wheels.

She was arrested on a charge of speeding. The summons is returnable before Justice of the Peace John Beaver of Esopus.

Hit by Cannon Ball

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — John E. Carre, 15, was knocked off his motor scooter by a cannon ball. He was jolted but wasn't seriously hurt. The cannon ball was rolled down a bridge—a few hundred yards from the country's oldest masonry fort — by four youths who fled in an automobile.

Three in Tie for Early Dart League Standings

A three-way tie for first place in the early stages of Saugerties Dartball League standings developed after Monday night's games as three teams blanked their opponents.

Cedar Grove whitewashed Ruby 3 to 0, Cementon defeated the American Legion team, and Service Center A's, who lost three last week bounced back and took three games from Glasco Athletic Club.

The tie developed between Cedar Grove, Cementon and Service Center B's who won three last week and turned back Quarryville last night 2 to 1. All three have won 5 and lost 1.

Other scores are: West Camp 2, Trinity 1; Glasco Fire Company 2, Mt. Marion 1; Katsbaan 2, Veteran 1 and Centerville 2, Centerville Vols 1.

Scheduled for next Monday are Glasco Vols at Service Center B's; Trinity at Glasco AC; Ruby at Mt. Marion; Service Center A's at Katsbaan; Cedar Grove at Centerville; Veteran at Cementon; Centerville Vols at West Camp and Quarryville at American Legion.

Fallen Tree Slows Down Traffic at 9W Malden

The stump of a 30-inch thick ash, about 15 feet high near the Malden Four Corners on Route 9W slowed down traffic for about an hour this morning when it fell across the highway in front of the home of Mrs. Anna Cawein.

Kingston state police reported that they had received a call about 11:15 this morning that a fallen tree was partially blocking one lane on Route 9W near the Malden intersection.

The state police notified the State Highway Department to remove the obstruction.

Charles W. Benson of Valley Street, Saugerties, who happened on the scene had a saw on his truck and partially cleared the highway by removing part of the stump from one lane.

John J. Helfert, a life member of Malden-West Camp Fire Company directed traffic until state police arrived.

$4,853 Back Pay Goes to 21 Who Worked on Roads

NEW YORK (AP)—Back wages of $4,853 have been paid to 21 workers who were underpaid this summer by a New Jersey construction company which had a contract for resurfacing work on highways in Oneida, Madison and Herkimer counties, N. Y.

A spokesman for the State Labor Department, which announced the wage collection Monday, said it was one of the largest amounts ever collected through the department's Bureau of Public Works.

The case was handled through the department's Utica office.

The 19 laborers and 2 truck drivers affected were paid below the minimums prescribed by New York State law. They were employed under a state contract.

The under-pay was discovered during a routine field inspection trip by bureau agents. The contracting company, after a hearing, agreed to make restitution. The 21 workers received checks ranging from $13 to $504, representing the difference between what each had been paid and what he should have been paid.

The Labor Department declined to reveal the identity of the company.

Freight Is Normal On B&M After One-Day Strike

BOSTON, (AP)—Freight moved normally on the Boston & Maine Railroad Tuesday after a one-day trainmen's strike, halted by injunction.

The walkout affected freight shipments to and from Vermont, New Hampshire, Maine and the system's western gateway at Mechanicville, N. Y. Passenger and mail service was not affected.

Some 300 freight conductors and brakemen stopped work Monday. A spokesman said they were protesting unsafe cabooses. But U. S. District Judge William T. McCarthy said the strike apparently had not been authorized and ordered it ended.

The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen made no attempt to resist. Its deputy president, H. J. Pryor, said "we are not going to flout the law."

In its request for a temporary restraining order, the railroad asked Judge McCarthy for a million dollars damages. The judge ordered the union to answer by Sept. 25.

Pryor said the railroad had not kept written promises made more than a year ago to purchase 25 new cabooses and repair others.

The railroad retorted that its cabooses are safe and added, "furthermore, the subject of cabooses is part of a case that is presently in mediation."

Off-Duty Lawman Killed

FAYETTEVILLE, N. Y. (AP)—An off-duty deputy sheriff was killed early Tuesday in an automobile accident after he apparently fell asleep at the wheel, state police said.

Police said that Deputy Vernon Klock's car crashed on a curve, he was thrown out and another car ran over him. The accident occurred in Route 5, east of this community near Syracuse.

Klock, 22, had been an Onondaga County deputy for six months. He was believed to have been enroute to his home in Kirkville.

Foreign Travel Is Luring New Yorkers

WASHINGTON (AP)—More New Yorkers than ever are yielding to the lure of foreign travel—with Western Europe the most popular destination.

During the first six months of the year the State Department issued or renewed 110,541 passports to New Yorkers as compared to 82,758 in the same 1957 period.

The overwhelming majority of the passports were requested by persons residing in the New York City metropolitan area — specifically, 82,615.

New York, the department said, ranked first among the states in the number of passports issued. California was second in the summary with Pennsylvania third.

The department's tabulation does not reflect travel by New York residents to Canada, the West Indies, Mexico and other countries where U. S. passports are not required.

Pleads Guilty To 75 Counts of Mail Thefts

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Suave Milton Levine, wanted for mail theft across the country, has pleaded guilty to 75 counts of stealing and forging checks.

Levine, 60 and nattily dressed, entered 18 guilty pleas in U. S. District Court here Monday to mail thefts in each of 16 federal districts.

Judge James T. Foley ordered an investigation before he imposed sentence.

Federal authorities said Levine had taken approximately $100,000 from the mails in the last two years.

He was caught stealing from a mail depository in the lobby of an Albany building last May 13. An employe of the building recognized Levine from a previous visit and alerted postal inspectors.

Inspector Edmund A. Simpson said there was "hardly an important city in the United States in which Levine has not stolen mail and cashed the checks."

Levine admitted 24 mail theft counts in the Boston district alone.

Takes Case to Court

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Cargill Inc. of Minneapolis, Minn., has gone to court to recover $739,142 from the government's Commodity Credit Corp.

This represents the amount awarded Cargill after two jury trials in connection with the storage of government-owned grain at Albany and Norris City, Ill.

Government claims totaling $1,364,376 against Cargill were dismissed.

Cargill filed the judgment in U. S. District Court Monday.

Butter Use Down Lowest in 4 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government food survey showed Tuesday that butter continues to lose ground among consumers.

The Agriculture Department survey showed that the percentage of families buying butter in June was the lowest in nearly four years. It was just under 44 per cent, down about one percentage point from a year earlier.

Retail prices of butter in June were said to have averaged the lowest—69½ cents a pound—since September 1956.

Three Charged With Murder In First Degree

LOWVILLE, N. Y. (AP)—Three young men who clubbed a 75-year-old jailer with a screwdriver while escaping from the Lewis County Jail have been indicted on first-degree murder charges.

Sheriff's deputies caught the trio in a field near the jail less than an hour after the break last Aug. 17.

A county grand jury returned the indictments Monday against George Lambert, 24, and Lyle Norman Hoage, 17, both of Lowville, and Hubert R. Carr, 20, of Watertown.

The three also were indicted on charges of second-degree assault and breaking jail. Lambert and Hoage were indicted on charges of possessing a dangerous weapon after a prior conviction and Carr with possessing a dangerous weapon.

Carr also faces charges of second-degree burglary and first-degree grand larceny in the theft of $421 from the home of Jeno Sabo at Lowville. The theft took place before Carr was sent to jail.

The jailer, Patrick J. Fogarty, died of a heart attack brought on by the blows, a coroner said.

The three will be arraigned here Wednesday before County Judge Miller B. Moran.

At the time of the escape, Hoage was serving six months for burglary, Lambert was serving 100 days for four motor vehicle violations, and Carr was being held for the grand jury on burglary charges.

They were the only prisoners in the jail at the time of the break.

More than 50 major eruptions of Mount Etna, Europe's highest active volcano, have been recorded in history.

OH, MY ACHING BACK

Now! You can get the fast relief you need from nagging backache, headache and muscular aches and pains that often cause restless nights and miserable tired-out feelings. When these discomforts come on with over-exertion or stress and strain —you want relief—want it fast! Another disturbance may be mild bladder irritation following wrong food and drink—often setting up a restless uncomfortable feeling.

Doan's Pills work fast in 3 separate ways: 1. by speedy pain-relieving action to ease torment of nagging backache, headaches, muscular aches and pains. 2. by soothing effect on bladder irritation. 3. by mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

Enjoy a good night's sleep and the same happy relief millions have for over 60 years. New, large size saves money. Get Doan's Pills today!

Optimism Is No Sub for Luck

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

One of my few correspondents who is ever willing to report one of his own bad results asks me to criticize his bidding of the South hand.

He writes: "After my partner raised me in diamonds, I jumped to six spades in the hope that he would hold the diamond queen. He did not have that card, but I still had a play for six spades. Unfortunately, the diamond queen did not fall and I went down one trick. The interesting feature of the hand is that I could have made six diamonds. I could get to dummy by trumping the second spade and take a successful diamond finesse against East. Would you have bid six diamonds?"

The answer to his question is that 25 years ago I would probably have blasted my way into six spades the way he did. Twenty years ago I might actually have worked my way into six diamonds.

I have no severe criticism of either contract, but today when I am older and more conservative, I would probably have contented myself with a mere four-spade bid after my partner's second denial of any strength. It is too much to expect that your partner's bad hand will contain just the one card you need for a slam.

Increase of 48 Per Cent Noted by Local Boys' Club

A membership increase of better than 48 percent in one year is reported by the Kingston Boys' Club, one of the 10 agencies benefiting from the Community Chest Red Feather campaign.

A total membership of 178 was reached in July of this year, compared to 120 the same time last year.

The Boy's Club offers an extensive program designed to help youngsters develop themselves into citizens of good character. In line with policy of the Boys' Clubs of America, by which the local club is chartered, the membership fees are purposely kept low so no boy is excluded by inability to pay.

The clubrooms at 139 Greenkill Avenue are open to boys about 280 days a year, 34 hours a week. Activities include woodworking, library, exercise room, game rooms, movies, tours, hikes. The use of the playing field (formerly Barmann Park) has been made available for outdoor sports by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, and the club also arranges to use the Geoge Washington School gymnasium for scheduled activities.

In a recent survey for the Community Chest to determine whether duplication exists, it was found that only seven boys out of the entire membership belonged to other youth organizations.

FISHING CONTEST WINNERS—The three youngsters of Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Stafford of Mt. Marion, and two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Heese Jr., of West Camp took the lion's share of the Saugerties Jaycees' fishing derby awards at Saturday's competition on Valley Farm Pond. Harold Hagopian, rear, derby chairman, made the award presentations to (l-r) Pricilla Stafford, 11, holding the family catch; Theodore Faulkner, 12; Edmund Whitaker, 8; and Pricilla's brothers, Glen, 9 and John, 10. The Heese children left early and were not present to receive the awards. (Freeman photo).

Mt. Marion Girl And Brothers Win FishDerbyAwards

An 11-year-old Mt. Marion girl and her two brothers won three of the seven awards in the Saugerties Junior of Commerce fishing derby for youngsters Saturday afternoon at Valley Farm Pond.

Winner of the first award for catching the heaviest fish—a two-pound, five ounce carp—was Priscilla Stafford. She was given a glass spinning rod.

Glen Stafford, 9, caught the second heaviest fish (eleven ounces) and his brother John, 10, caught the third heaviest, a 10-ounce carp. Both received lures as awards. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Stafford of Mt. Marion.

The Staffords were in the news last year when their home located near the Thruway was destroyed by fire.

Two West Camp girls, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Heese Jr., were presented awards in other categories.

Virginia Heese, 6, was awarded a fishing reel for being the youngest child to catch a fish. Her catch was a seven ounce, eight-and-a-half inch carp. Her sister, Eleanor, 7, tied with the Stafford boy for the third heaviest fish caught. She was given a fishing lure.

Theodore Faulkner, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Faulkner of Partition Street, Saugerties, caught a carp nearly 11 inches long. It proved to be the longest fish caught and he was presented with a fishing box.

The first legal size fish, a seven ounce, eight-inch carp, was caught by Edmund Whitaker, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Whitaker of Saugerties. He received a creel.

Of the 24 contestants, 15 caught fish in the three-hour competition.

Harold Hagopian of Virginia Avenue, Saugerties served as derby chairman for the Saugerties Jaycees and made the award presentations.

The contest, open to any child resident of the Town of Saugerties between the ages of six and 15 was held along the stream leading into the Valley Farm Pond on Knaust Brothers property near the village line.

Other Jaycees supervising the event included Edward Hofler, Jaycee president; William Batchelor, Charles Rice, Harry Hoffman, William Miller, Richard Messina, George Turner, and a former member, John Vassalo.

GREEN LAKE, Wis. (AP)—A local women's club sponsored a contest among business places to see which ones could make themselves the most attractive with flowers and redecoration. One of the top winners: Spike's Bar.

Bartender Faces Charge

WHITNEY POINT, N. Y. (AP)—A 32-year-old bartender faces a manslaughter charge in connection with the death of a cafe owner in De Ruyter, Madison County, Sunday.

Jack Davis of Johnson City was picked up by State Police Monday night at the Otselic Inn in this northern Broome County village.

Trooper Vincent Vasisko said Davis would be charged with manslaughter in the death of Loren Colaw, 50.

Colaw asked a patron to leave his place early Sunday. They went outside and fought. Police said Colaw fell and struck his head on steps. He died that night in a hospital at Syracuse.

Charles Lindbergh used 365 gallons of gasoline when he flew his "Spirit of St. Louis" to France in 1927.

Cellophane was first produced in Tonawanda Township.

Probers to Hear More About SEC, Goldfine Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators reconvene Tuesday to hear more about the troubles of Boston textile tycoon Bernard Goldfine with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The hearing was called to get the commission's version of delays and alleged White House interest in the SEC's handling of a company owned by the gift-dispensing friend of presidential aide Sherman Adams.

SEC commissioners requested the opportunity to testify about the handling of a case involving Goldfine's East Boston Co. and its wholly-owned subsidiary, Boston Port Development Co.

The House Subcommittee on Legislative Oversight, which earlier this summer spotlighted the the Adams-Goldfine friendship, did not plan to recall Goldfine or any of the original cast of characters on this occasion.

The Goldfine phase of the hearings was expected to be short. Subcommittee aides said its chief purpose was to permit SEC to complete the record.

The subcommittee, created to check on the work of federal regulatory agencies, then plans to quiz the SEC about the handling of another case—one involving the private sale of four million dollars worth of convertible debentures by Crowell-Collier Publications Co.

An SEC investigation produced a ruling earlier this year that the deal violated requirements of the Federal Securities Act. The subcommittee wants to determine whether it needs additional authority for such cases.

Cadillac

Even More Wonderful in Fact than Fame!

If you number just one Cadillac owner among your acquaintances, then we would wager that you've heard the wonderful Cadillac story for 1958.

In all probability you've been told of its brilliant performance . . . and of its marvelous Fleetwood luxury . . . and of its great practicality.

And perhaps you've wondered if any motor car could embody so many virtues—in such abundant measure—in a single year.

Well, what an eloquent answer the magnificent new Cadillac could give to that conjecture!

In fact, a single hour at its wheel would tell you, beyond any doubt, that this "car of cars" is even more wonderful in fact than in fame!

Surely, there is no adequate way to describe the way a new Cadillac rides and handles—so smooth and quiet and effortless that even the longest journey is an occasion for rest and relaxation.

And certainly, only the experience itself can reveal the pleasure of commanding a motor car that is so respected by the world's motorists.

Those discoveries are reserved for the man who takes the wheel for himself. And if you have not already done so, then you should delay no longer.

Your Cadillac dealer will be happy to acquaint you with all the facts about the many Cadillac models, including the distinguished Eldorado Brougham.

Ave's Wife Will Take Part in State Campaign

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Averell Harriman is getting ready to stump the state at her husband's side.

The Democratic governor's wife will be ready with a handshake, a smile and a wry comment about the Republicans at every opportunity.

But the tall, dark-haired Mrs. Harriman doesn't plan any formal speeches.

"I am not a speaker," she said during an interview. "And I don't plan to be one. After all, one good speaker in the family is enough."

"I love campaigning," she said. "This isn't my first, you know. There were the presidential conventions in '52 and '56 and the governorship in '54.

"Ave and I thrive on it. While he makes the speeches, I wander around and talk to people, see what they're thinking. And Im the one who sees to it that Ave gets something to eat every once in a while."

Mrs. Harriman noted that she knows Nelson A. Rockefeller, her husband's Republican opponent, "rather well." She said that in his position as Republican gubernatorial candidate Rockefeller is first an opponent and then a friend.

The Harriman's have a town house here, and Mrs. Harriman likes the executive mansion at Albany.

"Actually," she said, "I expect to be in Albany a great number of years. The Deweys were there for 12 years. I should think we could be there for 8 or 12, certainly."

Church on the Move

CANTON, OHIO (AP) — St. Haralambos Greek Orthodox Church has definitely been on the move. A 300-ton section of the 41-year-old church was laboriously hauled four miles across the city to a new site.

Expenditures Up---Receipts Down for Fiscal 1959

When fiscal 1958 ended on June 30, Uncle Sam, as usual, took down a new look at his finances and what he saw made him blink. Whereas the budget estimate President Eisenhower made last January indicated a surplus of some 500 million dollars, the new estimate of income and outgo for fiscal 1959 indicates a whopping 12-billion-dollar deficit. The current estimate shows a total increase of more than 500 million dollars. Charts below give details of the new estimates for fiscal 1959.

RECEIPTS---1959

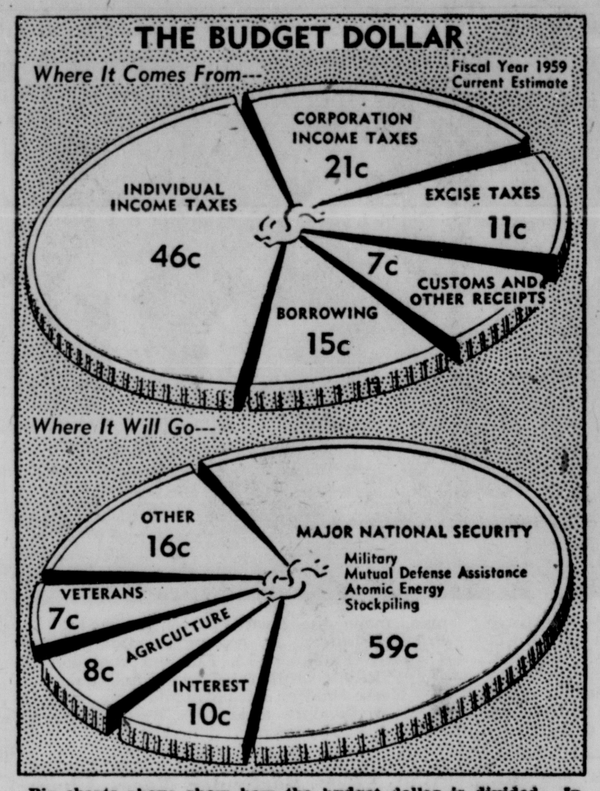

$ Billions—Fiscal Year	January Estimate	Current Estimate	Decrease
Individual Income Taxes	38.5	36.0	2.5
Corporation Income Taxes	20.4	16.7	3.7
Excise Taxes	9.3	8.4	.9
Customs and Other Receipts	6.2	5.9	.3
TOTAL	74.4	67.0	7.4

In January, President Eisenhower estimated that the government would take in 74.4 billion dollars, mostly in taxes. The new estimate indicates the take will be only 67 billions, a drop of 7.4 billions.

EXPENDITURES---1959

$ Billions—Fiscal Year	January Estimate	Current Estimate	Increase
Agriculture	5.0	6.9	1.9
Housing	.5	1.5	1.0
Post Office	.1	.7	.6
Unemployment Programs	.4	.9	.5
Defense	40.3	40.8	.5
Other Programs—net	27.6	28.4	.8
TOTAL	73.9	79.2	5.3

With Uncle Sam's income for fiscal 1959 lowered, his expenses are soaring. In January he thought fiscal 1959 would cost him 73.9 billion dollars. Instead it is now estimated that he'll spend 79.2 billions—an increase of 5.3 billions.

Pie charts above show how the budget dollar is divided. In January, it was estimated that 92 cents of the income dollar would come from taxes. The current revised estimate indicates that taxes will represent only 78 cents. In contrast is the fact that the January expenditure estimate apportioned 64 cents of the budget dollar to major national security agencies but the new estimate allows them only 59 cents.

YOUR POCKETBOOK

By Congress Is a Long One Trail of Benefits Left

BY FAYE HENLE

By adjournment date the 85th Congress had written into law benefits for almost everyone. Here are highlights:

Out of the appropriations for the largest peacetime spending ever will come a multitude of new jobs on defense projects, more jobs in building and allied trades and on highway construction, as the road-building program progresses.

Destined to make additional coins jingle in everyone's pocket were the pay raises voted for government workers and millions in the armed services. In turn, this spurred wage hikes in private industry.

The path of small business was made easier by several new acts of Congress. A system of "capital banks" will be set up to make long-term loans to help the smaller entrepreneur finance expansion and modernization. Loans by the Small Business Administration can be made in larger amounts than previously.

Small one-family businesses have been granted tax relief via a ruling permitting estate taxes to be paid over a 10-year period.

Others in business have new rulings to cheer.

Foreign traders should be aided by the 3.5-billion-dollar relief money voted for countries abroad. The hard-pressed railroad industry could be helped both by the removal of the 3 per cent tax on freight and the assurance of government backing on loans made for the purpose of buying new equipment.

Companies should also benefit by the rule that allows them to carry back, for tax purposes, an unlimited amount of business losses for up to three years instead of the former two years.

Congress voted no reduction in personal or corporate rates. This appears proper in view of the vastly accelerated government spending program. Additionally, you can expect a projected increased on your payroll tax for old-age benefits. "You" means almost any wage-earner, salaried person and the self-employed.

Congress has revised excise taxes, promising savings of some 40 million dollars a year to consumers. Taxes on entertainment and community swimming pools have been eased and there has been considerable reshuffling in the Internal Revenue Code to close some loopholes, relieve some hardships.

For students, the way is being paved to set up a new federal aid system to help finance college education.

For those dependent upon pensions, retired folk, the totally and permanently disabled, the survivors of those covered by Social Security, a 7 per cent increase in pay was voted. Old-age pensioners will be granted additional leeway when they seek part-time employment. ....

Company pension funds will come under closer government scrutiny.

For car-buyers, Congress has moved to eliminate unwarranted dealer markups by requiring that a manufacturer's "suggested price" of the car, accessories and cost of transportation be affixed to the windshield. That breezy convertible, same style, same make, should now bear the same price in every dealer's showroom in your town.

UFO Watch

AIAMOGORDO, N. M. (AP) —L. J. Lorenzen, director of an organization gathering information on unidentified flying objects, says this fall may show a heavy rash of sightings. Lorenzen is gathering volunteers to start a 24-hour watch on the skies for UFOs.

Chairman Named For Celebration HomecomingDays

Plans are progressing satisfactorily for Kingston's part in the 350th Anniversary of Henry Hudson's discovery of the River which now bears his name, said Albert Kurdt, chairman of the Kingston Committee for the Hudson-Champlain Celebration, today, when he announced the appointment of Lawrence M. Jenson as coordinator of Kingston's Homecoming Days, June 4, 5, 6 and 7, 1959.

A chairman for each day has been named and Jenson will coordinate plans for the four-day program.

Wednesday, June 4, will be Open House Day at several local stone houses and Mrs. Herbert B. Johnson will serve as chairman; Mrs. Adam H. Porter is chairman for June 5, Kingston's Birthday and W. Anderson Carl is the chairman for "Reunion Day." A special group will be named to celebrate "Wiltwyck's" Thanksgiving Day, June 7. The combined four-day program will be known as "Homecoming Days."

West Hurley

WEST HURLEY — The West Hurley Home Bureau will hold its first meeting Thursday at the West Hurley Elementary School. The group will start the class on knitting, and those interested in this project will bring their materials and patterns. The hat forms and materials will also be at this meeting and those who are planning to take this project will attend so they may make their selection to get this project started.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Every spent a recent weekend with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Clarkson Benson, Sussex, N. J.

The West Hurley Adult Library is open Mondays from 7 until 9 p. m. with Mrs. Charles Duffy, librarian. Newcomers to the area may join the library on any Monday night.

Ronald Glass who has been with the armed forces in Germany for the past year has returned home. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Glass.

Mr. and Mrs. Bror Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. O. Sandee, Sylvia and Donald spent a week recently in Erie, Pa.

Mrs. Allen Mackey who was a patient at the Kingston Hospital has returned to her home.

The West Hurley Elementary School opened on Sept. 3 with an enrollment of 227. Donald C. Baines, principal has announced that the lunch hour will consist of two parts. Four grades will eat while the other four will be on the playground. The children who go home for lunch will be an exception. They will be allowed a full hour for lunch. This is necessary so as not to overcrowd the playground during a particular lunch period.

New teachers teaching special subjects are as follows: Miss Evelyn Ruhmann, art; Mrs. Margaret Ruff, remedial reading; Mrs. Amy Lou McKinnon, music; Miss Katherine Huben, nurse. Anthony Hommel has returned as instrumental music instructor; John Million as physical education teacher and Mrs. Verna Ticknor as Librarian. Three new teachers have been added to the staff—Mrs. James Levins who is teaching sixth grade, Mrs. Ruth Heisman who is teaching kindergarten and Mrs. Nora Kaljian who is teaching second grade.

The Onteora Council of Christian Education will start a program of release time religious education Sept. 22. Director of the program in West Hurley is Mrs. Richard R. Guice. The program is limited to the 3, 4, 5 and 6th grades.

The first P-TA meeting will be held Tuesday evening, Sept. 23, at the West Hurley Elementary School.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bartsch have moved into their new home here.

Record Attendance

ALBANY, N. Y (A.P)—A record total of 15,341 persons attended summer sessions at State University colleges this year, the university reported Tuesday.

The total was well above the 13,500 enrolled last year. It was almost double the 8,000 enrollment 10 years ago.

Search Woods For Ex-Convict

WARRENSBURG, N. Y. (AP)—Heavily armed police, convinced that a shotgun-wielding ex-convict and his girl friend are in the area, pushed again Tuesday into dense woods west of this Adirondack resort.

State Police said John L. Potter, 28, and Wanda Hayes, 17, both of Warrensburg, stole a taxicab here last Wednesday, abandoned the driver along a highway and disappeared. The two are sought for armed robbery.

The taxicab was found Sunday parked beside an old, unoccupied farmhouse eight miles west of Warrensburg.

Searchers, including mounted horsemen, scoured about five square miles Monday.

Summer Camps Entered

Sheriff Carl McCoy of Warren County said six of the many summer camps in the area had been entered and food stolen.

State troopers, 15 members of McCoy's mounted patrol and special deputies joined in combing an area of thick woods running 10 to 12 miles deep.

McCoy urged volunteers and the curious to stay out of the area and leave the search to the officers.

Potter was described as a crack woodsman and hunter who knew the area well.

He was armed with a 12-gauge, sawed-off shotgun when he took the taxicab from driver Kenneth Cook of Warrensburg. Cook, a former schoolmate, identified Potter and the girl.

Potter was paroled from Clinton State Prison at Dannemora several months ago after serving a term for a burglary in Chestertown.

Six Cents for GOP Drive

LAKE PLACID, N. Y. (AP)—Holly Jones, 10, shook hands with a campaigning Nelson A. Rockefeller Monday.

Then Holly handed Republican Rockefeller six cents, and explained she wanted to contribute to his fight for the governorship.

Rockefeller, a millionaire, took the money with nary a smile. Then he drew 50 cents from his picket and suggested that Holly and her four young companions buy themselves ice cream cones.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Confidence unimpaired has played a stellar role in halting the recession and starting business on the uphill climb again.

Confidence is made up of many ingredients—including good American horse sense. No one factor can take a bow as being the only one to keep confidence unimpaired.

Exchange Compliments

But today businessmen can pat each other on the back for two things:

1. Most of them conducted their own affairs in a way that showed their confidence in the economy's essential soundness was unshaken, no matter how prudent they might be at the moment in meeting current problems.

2. Individually and in unison most of them stressed this confidence. This undoubtedly had its part in keeping the American people's eyes focused on the long-term prospects for growth and prosperity and in keeping them from losing their heads when a rapidly developing recession was making the short term prospect disturbing indeed.

Consumer Spending

The concrete result is shown in figures on consumer spending. In areas hard hit by unemployment spending naturally has slowed down. Elsewhere it hasn't.

Consumers have changed the objects of their buying affections—to the distress of some manufacturers and the delight of others. But there has been no panic—no widespread snapping of rubber bands on well-heeled wallets.

When the recession was at its worst some five months ago the advertising council, with the support of many business leaders and their international organizations launched a "Confidence in a Growing America" campaign. The accent was on the long-term view. The idea: To show the public that the over-all economy was sound and to stress that the recession, like so many other setbacks, would pass.

Today the council has just about worked itself out of a job.

Almost Unemployed

Taking stock of how business firms, the press and TV-radio have responded, the council reports that daily and weekly newspapers have asked for 5,359 individual advertising mats carrying the message of confidence. Some 76 magazines have run full-page advertisements. Industrial publications have inserted 387 full-page ads, and merchandising trade papers about 300 more. The council counts 218 messages carried on 103 network commercial TV shows and 133 messages on 29 network radio shows. It says coverage on local stations is beyond tabulating.

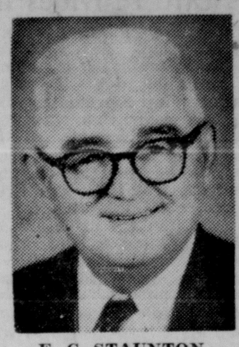

Just how much confidence was bolstered or generated by this is beyond knowing. But the council thinks the many letters from readers, viewers and listeners indicate the campaign went over.

Hadassah Membership Drive Draws to Close; Award Provides Incentive for Workers

The final stages of "Operation Membership" for Kingston's Hadassah chapter begin tomorrow.

According to Mrs. David Kline, membership coordinator for Hadassah, committee workers will personally contact all those members who have not yet re-enrolled for the 1958-59 year tomorrow, Thursday and Friday.

A special incentive for those working on the drive and members enrolling in the organization is the "Knickerbocker Holiday," to be awarded in the regional Hadassah's membership contest. All members and those who enroll new members will be eligible for the award, a three-day expense-paid holiday in New York City.

The regional winner, accompanied by her guest, will stay in a suite at a leading New York hotel and dine at famous restaurants. They will attend Broadway shows, be taken on tours of celebrities' homes and be special guests at a reception-luncheon at Hadassah House, which is maintained by the national organization. Champagne, flowers and personal gifts will also be awarded the winner. The contest closes October 31.

Janet M. Tacorchick Weds Rudolph F. Turck In Double Ring Ceremony at First Baptist

Before an altar banked with gladioli and chrysanthemums, at First Baptist Church, Albany Avenue, Miss Janet Mae Tacorchick exchanged wedding vows with Rudolph Francis Turck in a double ring ceremony.

The wedding took place Saturday, Sept 6 with the Rev. Harold J. Stephanz officiating. Henry Peyer was soloist and Mrs. Arthur Pederson, organist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Tacorchick of 50 Hinsdale Street. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Turck of 28 North Street.

Family pews were marked with white satin bows and palms and ferns were also used with which to decorate the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white silk taffeta fashioned with a basque bodice, abbreviated sleeves and a portrait neckline. The bodice and skirt were enhanced with crystal pleated taffeta banded with Alencon lace. The bouffant skirt featured a circular court train. A veil of Franch illusion was shirred to a princess crown of seed pearls. The bride carried her grandmother's lace covered prayer book with phaelanopsis orchids. The prayer book is 50 years old.

Sister of the bride, Rosemarie Tacorchick, served as maid of honor in a gown of opera green iridescent taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice, scoop neckline, abbreviated sleeves and intermission length skirt.

Miss Tacorchick also wore a tiny feathered hat with circular tulle flirtation veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow and bonze chrysanthemums and red croton foliage.

Miss Elaine Kay Tacorchick, also the bride's sister, served as junior bridesmaid. Other attendants included Phyllis Hathmaker of 375 Albany Avenue, and Mrs. George Kirtson of 249 Broadway. Their gowns were identical in style and color to that worn by the honor attendant. They carried cascade bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums with varigated croton foliage.

George L. Chilson of 24 Delta Place, was best man. Ushers included Philip Toffel, Robin Lane; Harold Finkle, Lucas Avenue Extension; Holcomb Tomson, Hurley; Sam Turck, brother of the bridegroom, 28 North Street.

More than 125 guests were entertained at a reception held at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The bride, a graduate of Kingston High School, is employed as night manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company, 237 Fair Street. Her husband, who attended New York Institute of Finance in New York City, spent nine years in the brokerage business. He also spent four years with the Marine Corps, two of which were spent overseas as a sergeant. He is now associated as registered representative and stock trader for the firm of Chilson Newberry and Company, 48 Main Steet.

For her wedding trip to Bermuda, the bride wore a costume suit in gray tweed styled in the empire silhouette with matching coat and black accessories. She also wore a corsage of white orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. Turck will reside at 68 St. James Street when they return from their trip.

AN UNUSUAL TIPPING PROBLEM

Dear Mrs. Post: Not long ago a waiter told me my tip was not enough. In order not to create a scene in the restaurant I added to it. What I should have liked to do was pick up the amount and walk out. Will you make some comment on this beheavior?

Answer: If he gave you inefficient service you could have said, "The tip was more than enough for the service you gave me" and left it. If you had no complaints with the service you would then probably have shown surprise and could have said, "How much should it be?"—and then added the difference. (All in perfectly good temper of course.)

Make-up on a Bride

Dear Mrs. Post: I went to the wedding of a neighbor's daughter the other day. She had on a very beautiful dress but she was so heavily made up it spoiled her whole appearance. She wore a very vivid lipstick and quite a lot of eye make-up. Wasn't this in bad taste? I have always felt that make-up should be used very sparingly on this occasion. What is your opinion?

Answer: I most certainly agree with you. The make-up you describe on a bride is actually shocking!

Bridal Receiving Line

Dear Mrs. Post: We'd like to have the two mothers as part of the bridal receiving line. Will you please tell me how they should stand—in what order, I mean?

Answer: Correctly, there are two lines. The bride's mother stands at the door of entrance—the groom's mother on her right. Fathers are sometimes next, but they usually walk about. The bridal receiving line is: The bride on the bridegroom's right, her maid of honor on her right and the bridesmaids beyond the maid of honor. They stand wherever the best background happens to be. (Best man and ushers not included.)

To help you plan your wedding from beginning to end, Mrs. Post has written booklet No. 501, "Etiquette of Weddings." Details on the ceremony and expense are included. NATURAL WAY TO BEAUTY

So many of today's beauty articles are keyed toward three age groups — teenager, past 30, and past 40. Granted there are countless other articles stressing beauty tips for every age, but I would say the majority of them fall within these three frames.

There are many reasons for the sharp distinctions beauty experts tell us, but I personally feel that the natural way to beauty knows no age, no income group. It is a look of freshness, vivacity and good grooming applicable to every age. Let's call it "The Debutante Look."

The dictionary defines a debutante as one "making an entrance into society." Well, all of us make countless entrances daily.

The way you look, the impression you make depends on two things: what you were born with, and what you do with it.

We can't control the things Nature gave us. But we can improve on them — play up good points, disguise poor ones.

The Debutante Look is the happy result of careful attention to fundamentals and to details — of good health and a happy frame of mind. It should start in the early teens. IT SHOULD NEVER END.

With the Debutante Look in mind, I would like to offer a series covering all the important phases of good grooming, the beauty that you create. I hope you will find it interesting and practical.

Start at the Top

The way you wear your hair is the key to your whole appearance. By changing your hairdo, you can change yourself—radically, dramatically. For better or worse!

Styling is only part of top-level good grooming. The clean sparkle of often-shampooed, well brushed hair is just as important.

Brushing removes surface dust and distributes natural oils. It gives your hair a sheen and encourages healthy growth. If hair tends to be oily, wash it every few days (try green soap once a week, regular shampoo at other times).

If hair is dry, try a weekly hot oil shampoo. In any event, find the sudser that suits your hair, then rub hard, cleaning both scalp and tresses. Rinse until water is clear and hair literally "squeaks" when you run a strand through your fingers. For extra sparkle, add lemon juice (for blondes) or vinegar (for brunettes and redheads) to the final rinse water. And, if your hair is gray or attractively gray-streaked, use a blue rinse for shining brightness.

Most women set their hair right after shampooing, then wonder why they get a kinky, overtight curl. It's better to towel away excess moisture and let hair dry naturally, brushing to stimulate oils and avoid that "can't do a thing with it" look.

Beware of Fads

When hair is dry, dampen it slightly with water or spray. Pin curls in place and pin only the ends to avoid an unattractive crimp. Next, turban your head in a towel wrung out in hot water; let steam penetrate and dampen curls. After five minutes, remove towel and cover hair with a net. When hair is dry, brush it out—section by section—and comb it into place.

When you change hairdos, have a good hairdresser to the trimming and first set. It takes an expert scissors to shape a new hairdo. AND DON'T JUMP BLINDLY ON THE CURRENT FAD BANDWAGON; it may not suit you. Know, in general, the style that does suit you and work out an adaptation of it. Remember, too, that your hair style should suit your life: an elaborate pile of curls may look fine at a formal dinner, but a bit ridiculous in the supermarket or office.

Here are a few general rules to serve as a guide in selecting a style:

If face is thin—part hair low on one side.

If face is too small—a halo of curls will add to its size.

If you are tall, large boned—avoid a feather cut.

If you are short, tiny—stay away from elaborate fluffy hairdos.

If forehead is narrow — add curls on side at brow line.

If brow is low—try curled-up bangs.

If brow is too high — bangs again, but combed down.

If face is heavy—try slightly fluffy waves or curls near face.

If you wear glasses—keep brow clear, with curly bangs brushed up.

If you have lines running from nose to mouth or mouth to chin—fight the downward look by wearing hair up.

If you have a long nose or heavy jawline—wear hair pulled back smoothly.

If you throat is long and thin—wear a slightly longer hairdo, curved below chin.

If you are past 20 — avoid a pony tail.

If you are past 30 — wear hair either short or up and trimly groomed.

Hair Coloring

Coloring is a new field of hair beauty. No longer is this something done in secret, never admitted. You have a rainbow of colors from which to choose — in tints, rinses, sprays, shampoos. Here again, you must experiment. Carefully. It's best to start with one of the so-called "temporary" colorings; these are the ones that wash out. This is an easy way to find out what suits you, and usually you'll discover that it gives you just what you want. Handle coloring products with care, keeping them away from eyes, ears, face. And always take a patch test first, following directions.

This 'N' That

Soon autumn and its golden days will lead us into tranquil ways. And faint will sound, o'er vale and hill, the fading call of whippoorwill. The Master Painter of them all will tint the leaves before they fall. While fast across the cooling sky the scudding clouds of autumn fly. From farm and field, when labors cease, harvest will bring its blest increase. And to the tillers of the soil the peace that comes from honest toil. We thank Thee, Lord, for rain and sun. And for the joy of work well done. For every season's steady flow, that causes life to change and grow. For soil and water, grass and trees. For all of nature's mysteries. And now . . . for autumn's golden days, dear Lord, accept our humble praise.—Karl Flaster.

Color Photos Attract Teen-Age Readers

NEW YORK (AP)—A newspaper executive says teen-age readership of his newspaper "zoomed" after it started using color in news pictures on a daily basis.

William P. Steven, vice president and executive editor, Minneapotis Star & Tribune, gave the results of the Evening Star's regular use of color in pictures Monday in a talk before the 3rd annual ROP (run of press) color conference.

Steven reported that since the Star introduced color in 1956, "the time people spend reading the paper has stopped declining and has gone up. It has zoomed in the 10-to-17 age group. There have been 50 per cent more readers per copy in this age group in the past two years."

Howard C. Cleavinger, managing editor of the Spokane, Wash., Chronicle, said the nation "is on the threshold" of an era in which a sizable number of newspapers will run editorial or spot news color on a regular basis.

Legion to Hear Boys State Talk

Guest speaker at the regular monthly meeting of Kingston Post 150, American Legion, at 8:30 p. m. today will be Lewis J. Singer, a Kingston High school senior, who will describe his experience at Boys State last June.

Singer was a candidate from the local post. Boys State was held at Colgate University from June 22 to 27.

Commander Jules Albertini urged all Legionnaires to attend.

Andrew J. Murphy, 3rd, adjutant and chairman of the annual event held in the fall to raise funds for post welfare activities, will report for his committee. Nature of the event has not been announced.

Post Commander William Hanley, chairman of the membership committee, will report. Other committee chairmen are also asked to present reports.

Masked Prowler Theory Supported

NEW YORK (AP)—New revelations in the Staten Island double-murder case tend to support the original theory that it was a masked prowler who stabbed Dr. and Mrs. Melvin Nimer to death in their home.

Dist. Atty. John M. Braisted disclosed Monday that the doctor—as well as his wife—gasped the words "prowler" and "mask" before he died.

That ties in with the original story told by their 8-year-old son, Melvin Nimer Jr.

The boy later told authorities that he killed his parents. Still later, he reportedly recanted his "confession." The boy is under mental observation at Bellevue Hospital.

Braisted again stressed that investigators are far from convinced that Melvin Jr.'s declaration of guilt was true.

Nimer and his wife, both 31-year-old Mormons from Utah, were fatally stabbed about 2 a. m. Sept. 2.

Melvin Jr. first told police that he awoke to find a masked man trying to choke him in his bed. He said his parents rushed from their room in response to his cries and were stabbed by the masked man.

Descriptions Differ

The dying doctor and his wife, it was revealed, gave police partial descriptions of their attacker that differed from the one given by Melvin Jr. Braisted said the contradiction involved skin color. He would not elaborate.

Asked if Nimer said anything else, the district attorney told newsmen: "I cannot say anything further on this matter now."

Asked about Melvin Jr.'s confession, Braisted said:

"His statement may not be as reliable as that of an older person. He is only 8 years old. And we have preliminary findings to show that the boy is mentally ill. This in itself tends to negate the boy's statement.

"The fact that the word 'prowler' was used is inconsistent with the boy's statement. I repeat—this boy is not accused of this crime. . . ."

In his "confession," the boy said he attacked his parents with a kitchen knife while they slept, then washed the knife and returned it to a kitchen drawer.

Braisted said Monday that all the knives in the kitchen drawer had been dismantled for examination and none showed any "tangible evidence of blood." He also said there was no blood on Melvin Jr.'s clothing or hands.

Taking Doses Himself

CHICAGO (AP)—Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, leading proponent of the controversial cancer drug Krebiozen, is taking self-prescribed doses of the drug to treat a lesion he describes as precancerous.

Dr. Ivy, 65, a University of Illinois physiologist, maintains the substance has shown promise in cancer patients. It has been a subject of dispute since its introduction in 1951 and the American Medical Assn. has stated it has no proved value.

The physiologist told a newsman Monday he took krebiozen as a preventive after discovering a sore white spot on his tongue a week ago and deciding it was precancerous.

He said he had taken some krebiozen and will take more, after which he will have a surgeon remove the lesion.

Driver Gets Reprieve

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—This was one for the record—one reprieve, that is, for a good safety record.

Earl Ellsworth, 78, of suburban Spencerport was picked up for speeding. City Judge John P. Lomenzo learned it was Ellsworth's first offense since he began driving in 1906. Ellsworth pleaded guilty and Lomenzo freed him with a suspended sentence.

Probing Alleged Payoffs for City Paving Contracts

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — A grand jury probing alleged payoffs for city paving contracts may offer contractor Raymond Brayer immunity from prosecution if he will testify.

Brayer, president of the Rock Asphalt Co., appeared briefly before the Erie County grand jury Monday.

The jury ordered him to appear Tuesday and also asked State Supreme Court Justice John S. Marsh to appear. Judge Marsh presumably would determine whether the questions put to Brayer are legal and pertinent.

If a witness granted immunity refuses to answer questions, he could be cited for contempt and punished.

The grand jury summoned Brayer Monday after he was directed to appear in Federal Court to show cause why he should not be held in contempt for refusing to answer questions at an Internal Revenue Service tax liability hearing.

The transcript of the hearing showed Brayer refused on the ground of possible self-incrimination to say whether he paid $49,500 to unnamed city officials.

Brayer's company and two others have done the city's resurfacing work for the past five years. The period under investigation by the IRS is 1954-56.

Apartment House Reported Sold to Kingston Savings

Announcement of the purchase of the Salvatore Aprea apartment house, 2-8 Crown Street, by the Kingston Savings Bank was made public today.

Holt N. Winfield, president of the bank, stated that the bank had purchased the apartment house with a view of future improvements to the banking house. The bank has no immediate plans for expansion and "for the present" there will be no change. There are 12 apartments in the two story and basement brick structure which backs on the present banking house premises at 273 Wall Street.

Negotiations for the purchase of the apartment house were completed last week.

While no immediate change is contemplated, Winfield said the premises were desirable as a part of the bank property in the event the bank at some future time planned expansion. It would give the bank a considerable frontage on Crown Street and could provide space for drive-in facilities and for parking.

Marie, Broker to Wed

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Marie McDonald and Los Angeles stockbroker Blake Garne say they'll be married during the Christmas holidays.

Friends said the couple met some years ago at a party given by Linda Darnell.

It will be the fourth marriage for Miss McDonald, 35, dubbed "The Body" by publicity men early in her career.

Garner, 40, is a bachelor.

Chorine, Crosby to Wed

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The chorus line at a Las Vegas, Nev., hotel has captured another Crosby heart.

Phillip Crosby announced Monday he'll wed Sandra Dummond, 20-year-old dancer, in the near future. They met through Phillip's 23-year-old twin Dennis, who recently married showgirl Pat Sheehan.

She Calls Anyway

DENVER (AP)—Because it was his first day on the job, Ray Curry asked his wife not to telephone the office. She did anyway, to say the house was on fire. It burned to the ground. Curry, 26, his wife and five children spent the night at a neighbor's.

First successful cotton factory was set up at Pawtucket, R. I., in 1793 by Samuel Slater and Moses Brown.

Four Persons Killed As Train Rams Car

WADENA, Minn. (AP) — Four persons were killed early today when their speeding car ricocheted off U.S. 10, jumped a spur track and was mangled when it raced onto the main line into the path of a Northern Pacific train traveling 70 miles per hour.

Officers said the nearest crossing was half a mile away.

The dead included an airman and a civilian electronics expert employed at the Wadena Air Force radar base and two Wadena women.

They were tentatively identified as Pearl Hirshey, about 40, and Alice Greenwood, 24.

Names of the two men were withheld.

The Wadena County sheriff said the train engineer, Ernest Stone, and fireman Edward Sellnow, told him the driver of the car apparently lost control. They estimated its speed at 90 to 100 miles per hour.

Stone Ridge Boy Magazine Winner

John R. Blanchard, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Merton A. Blanchard of Stone Ridge, was the winner of the major prize awarded by "Tims Magazine For Boys" in the July "paperclip contest." He will receive his award, a bicycle Saturday at Flanagan's, 331 Wall Street.

Each month "Tims" magazine, which is distributed to boys in this area from 3 to 16 years of age by Flanagan's awards a major prize to the boy who presents the most original product in their monthly contest. There are numerous other awards monthly for winners in other contests. Among the local winners in the nationally distributed magazine contests, have been Michael Dolan of Saugerties who won a war cannot kit in a June contest and George Nelson of 236 West Chestnut Street, Kingston, who in the May contest, won a miniature silver saxophone.

John R. Blanchard, Stone Ridge, son of Principal and Mrs. Merton A. Blanchard of the Marbletown School, is the first boy locally to win a major award. The deluxe equipped bicycle will be presented by Albert C. Flanagan Saturday as an award for the most skillful and original production of images from a common paper clip.

Any boy from 3 to 16 may register for a copy of "Tims" magazine at Flanagan's and become eligible to enter the monthly contests.

ATHENS (AP) — A foreign ministry spokesman said today the U. S. government has agreed to the appointment of Alexis Liatis as Greek ambassador to Washington.

Liatis now is in charge of the Greek foreign ministry office for Arab and Asian affairs.

Two Young Men Die in Crash Of Automobiles

CANASERAGA, N. Y. (AP)—Two young men were killed last night in a head-on collision of two automobiles near this Allegany County community. Three persons were injured.

The dead were Vernon Van Zile, and James L. Harrison, both 22 and from Canisteo in neighboring Steuben County. Harrison was a passenger in the convertible Van Zile was driving.

The two cars collided at a curve on Route 70 three miles east of Canaseraga.

The three injured were reported in fair condition at hospitals.

Invasion Money

TROY, N. Y .(AP)—The boy, barely 12, strolled into a liquor store Monday night and asked the clerk to exchange 10 singles for a $10 bill.

The clerk, Mrs. Marjorie Donohue, spotted a figure 10 poking from a corner of the boy's bill, wrapped in paper.

She counted out the money. The boy picked it up and fled.

His offering? A 10-peso note printed by the Japanese as invasion money for the Philippines campaign.

Authority May Take 86 Acres Of Reservation

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—A Federal Court has ruled that the State Power Authority may take over 86 acres of the Tuscarora Indian reservation immediately. The SPA says work will start Tuesday.

The 86 acres are part of 1,383 the SPA wants to condemn for the 650-million-dollar Niagara power project. The Indians have taken the condemnation case to the U.S. Supreme Court.

In Rochester Monday, Federal District Judge Harold P. Burke granted the SPA immediate possession of the land for power lines. The SPA said the decision will save the state half a million dollars.

The attorney for the Tuscaroras declined comment.

U. S. Supreme Court Justice John M. Harlan has granted the Indians a temporary delay in the state's condemnation proceedings pending a possible appeal to the full court. The Tuscaroras have until Friday to file a formal appeal.

Justice Harlan left it to the Federal District Court to decide whether the 86 acres for the power lines could be taken over by the SPA immediately to save time and money.

The Indians have until Oct. 15 to appeal Judge Burke's decision.

Burke also stipulated that the SPA must deposit $200,000 with the court as compensation for the 86 acres, or to pay for damages if his decision should be overruled.

16 Hurt as Cars Derail

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Eight cars of the Soo Line's Mountaineer were derailed at Hamel, Minn., Monday night, 40 minutes after the train left the terminal here, bound for western Canadian points via Portal, N. D.

At least 16 persons were hospitalized and upwards of a score more were given first aid for cuts and bruises at the scene, 20 miles northwest of Minneapolis. None were reported seriously hurt.

"I really don't know what happened. We just went, that's all," said one unidentified crew member."

Six of the eight cars derailed with the two-unit diesel carried mail, express and baggage.

H. M. Ratje, the conductor estimated 75 persons were aboard the train, which carried 15 cars. He said the train was traveling at normal speed of about 50 miles per hour.

Tips Ex-Wife

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — A deputy circuit clerk said a man required to make $40 monthly child support payments submitted $45 for September. The man explained that he had missed the August payment, but that his ex-wife hadn't complained. "Just tell her the extra $5 is a tip for waiting," he said.

$4.57 August Milk Price

NEW YORK (AP)—A uniform farm price of $4.57 per hundredweight (46.5 quarts) was paid for August milk deliveries, C. J. Blanford, market administrator of the New York-New Jersey milk marketing area, has announced.

The farm price in July was $4.20. In August 1957 the price was $4.68.

The producer butterfat differential last month was 5.6 for each tenth of a pound of fat above or below the 3.5 per cent standard.

Blanford said total milk production last month was 761,458,990 pounds, an increase of 26,682,142 pounds or 3.63 per cent over August 1957.

He said consumption of fluid milk was down slightly from a year ago. It accounted for 455,846,021 pounds of the total production as compared with 468,522,824 pounds a year ago. The decrease was 12,676,803 pounds or 2.71 per cent.

Sullivan Airman Presumed Dead On Formosa Flight

FERNDALE, N. Y. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Max Brender have been notified that their son, Navy Lt. Joseph Brender, 24, is lost and presumed dead on a flight in the Formosa Strait.

Max Brender, a Sullivan County poultry breeder and hatcher, and his wife, received a message last weekend that their son was missing on a night patrol flight from the carrier Midway. He had radioed that he was running out of fuel, and that was the last heard from him.

Monday, a Navy chaplain called at the parents' home to report the lieutenant was presumed dead.

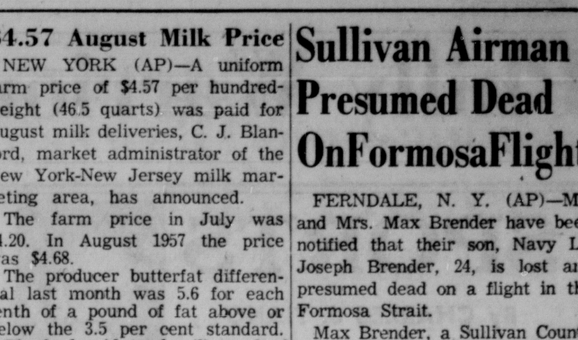

There were other men on the lost plane, but no mention of their number was made in the report here.

Brender had been in service since 1955.

Philly Warriors, Syracuse Nats Play in Kingston, October 17

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Freeman Sports Editor

The New York-New Jersey Baseball League has just completed another successful season, thereby confounding its critics and confusing the prophets of gloom and doom.

The fact that we happen to be president of the inter-state circuit only compounds the satisfaction in knowing the good ship NY-NJ has safely anchored for another year.

The NY-NJ is a hardy perennial, a sports phenomenon in this electronic age. The brainchild of Mayor Bill Ryan of Newburgh and Fred Davi of Kingston is a rare organization in these perilous times for baseball. The game is dying of dry rot in the Eastern part of the country. Metropolitan New York has been stripped of two major league franchises, neither of which is ever likely to return.

The New York-New Jersey League is, in effect, a semi-pro league, a species of baseball that died shortly after the first bombs were dropped on Pearl Harbor. The NY-NJ exists only because there still remains enough ball players who play merely for the sake of the game. There are some pitchers and maybe a few key players who work for a flat fee in each game. But, by and large, the NY-NJ is a cooperative setup in which players whack up any balance that is left at the end of the season. Gate receipts, except at Staatsburg, are nil. Most of the monies are raised through sponsorships and the sale of space in seasonal programs.

The league operated in 1958 with teams in Kingston, Saugerties, Poughkeepsie, Staatsburg, Nyack, Spring Valley, Beacon and Jersey City. That's a fair geographical spread in this day and age. Nyack and Jersey City are currently battling for the 1958 gonfalon in a best-of-three series.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

Alex Sharpe, Jr., president of the Township of Woodstock Little League, hopes to recruit a LL auxiliary for the circuit and has several other plans to maintain interest at a high level. He plans to call a general meeting of parents, officials and interested persons later this month. . . . The hunter-training program for new nimrods beginning Wednesday, Sept. 17 at the high school, is highly recommended for all eligibles. . . . Bowlers are jealous of space other sports get on the sports pages, but theirs is the only activity that appears 12 months a year. The universal 35-week schedule dovetailing with summer leagues now makes bowling a 52-week proposition. . . . The South Carolina-Army football game at West Point on Sept. 27 will be broadcast on Mutual Broadcasting System's coast-to-coast hookup. The Gamecocks upset Army, 34-20, in their last visit to the Point in 1954. . . . We have word from Glen Teetsell that Hans Hamm, the Old Pro of Rip Van Winkle Country Club, is playing terrific golf these days.

• No Easy in the National:

If and when the Milwaukee Braves nail down the 1958 National League championship, it will mark only the third time in the last 15 years that an NL club has won two pennants in a row. The Old League's strength has been so well distributed down through the years that it has been a rarity for a club to succeed itself as champion. It has happened only ten times in the last 45 years. During the last 15 years, the Dodgers of 1953 and 1956 were the only clubs to play the role of repeaters. Brooklyn reigned as NL champion in 1952-53 and again in 1955-56. The St. Louis Cardinals won three years running in 1942, 1943 and 1944. Previous to that the same club won in succeeding years only three times in 20 seasons. The Cincinnati Reds took it all in 1939-40; The Giants were champs in 1936-37 and Cardinals won in 1930-31. John McGraw's Giants won four straight flags from 1921 through 1924 and that's a record for consecutive pennants in the NL. Other repeaters in the 20th century were the Giants of 1911-12; the Cubs of 1906-7-8; the Giants of 1904-5 and the Pirates of 1901, 1902 and 1903. It was not uncommon for NL clubs to string together consecutive flags during the early years of the century, but it has become increasingly difficult down through the years.

Inspire Grid Men's Desire: South Carolina's head man, Warren Giese, has this motto posted on the door of the coaches' dressing and conference rooms: "Coaching ability is the talent of inspiring the desire in the players." The definition is pretty hard to beat.

American Legion To Sponsor Game At Field House

Two of the most colorful teams in the National Basketball Association — the Philadelphia Warriors and Syracuse Nats will play an exhibition game at the Kate Walton Field House on Friday, Oct. 17.

The contest will be sponsored by Kingston Post American Legion and replaces the annual American Legion Ball as fund raising project.

Plans for the game were announced today by Andrew Murphy III.

Both teams have guaranteed the appearance of their regular NBA lineups.

Philadelphia will also show a new coach in Al Cervi, former dynamic leader of the Nats and one of the all-time great pro basketball coaches. Cervi recently signed a 2-year contract with the Warriors. He succeeds George Senesky, who piloted the Warriors against the Rochester Royals in a Legion exhibition here last year.

Appearing with the Warriors will be, among others the fabulous Paul Arizin, Tom Gola, Woody Sauldsberry, Neil Johnston and others.

Syracuse will show two great names in Dolf Schayes, the all-time NBA scoring leader, Ed Conlin and others.

Further details will be announced later.

Devastator 1st In Yonkers Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jimmy Arthur drove 4-year-old Devastator to a neck triumph and a $39.70 payoff in the Albany Pace at Yonkers Raceway Monday night.

Devastator, moving from seventh place at the half, caught Troy Hedgewood at the wire to win the mile in a fast 2:02 4-5. Favorite Royal Affair was third. Devastator is owned by Hugh Grant and Del Miller of Meadowlands, Pa.

Driver Garland Garnsey of Canton took his second triple in three nights at Vernon Downs.

Garnsey scored with the first three standardbreds he drove. Clarity Hanover in the first race and Frisky Guy and Hustle in the third and fourth races.

Garnsey missed making it four when Kurtabel, reined by Cecil Richards, nipped Garnsey's Ann Laird by three quarters of a length in the sixth race. Ann Laird led most of the way.

Jenny L., a five-year-old mare, made her debut at Saratoga Raceway an impressive one, winning the $1,300 Class A pace in a swift 2:02 3-5. Jenny L., fourth choice in a field of six, paid $11.60. She was driven by Manny Robinson for owner Gola C. Dolby of Laurel, Del.

Sabra Hanover, owned by T. Proctor Eldred of Utica, was a surprise $15.50 winner in the $2,000 Clifton Park for 2-year-olds. Fred La Rouech drove.

At Monticello, Red Meadow, a 9-year-old chestnut, took the feature Class C trot and paid $21.60. The horse was driven by L. Kummer Jr. for the owner, Windy Hill Farms of Westfield, N. J.

Belle Brewer was reined to victory in the $1,300 Class B pace in 2:09 on a muddy track at Batavia. The Belle, owned by Fred Hoepfinger and Otis Davis of Prattsburg, paid $10.60. General Dean paid $15.50 to place.

No Grudge Game For Buck Shaw

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Buck Shaw, fired as coach of the San Francisco 49ers in 1954, scoffs at any idea his Philadelphia Eagles' exhibition game here Sunday will be a grudge match.

"This game is nore important than any other to us," the Eagle's coach declared. "And it's between the Eagles and the 49ers, not the coaches. As for the grudge angle, nothing to it. Life's too short."

The clash Sunday will be the last National Football League exhibition for both teams.

Quarterback Duel

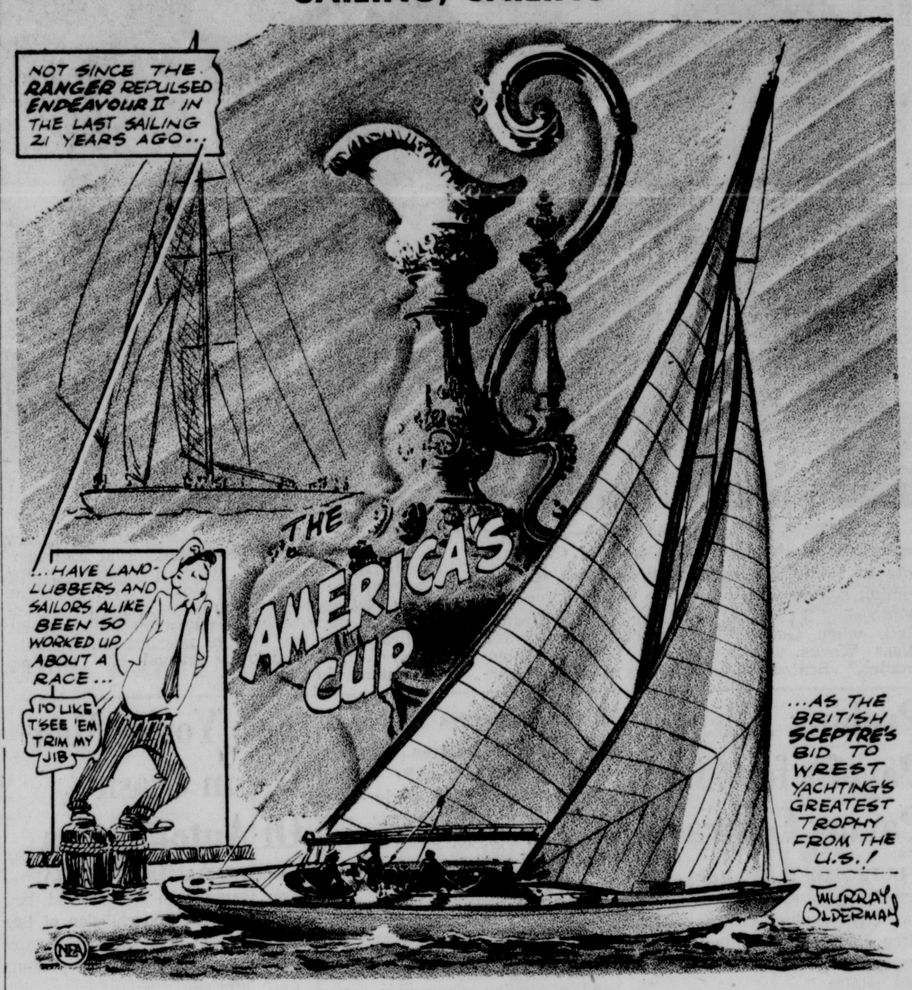

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Ron Johanson of Corning, N. Y. ,and Dick McLaughlin of New Rochelle, N. Y., are battling for the starting quarterback job on the Harvard football team.

Texas Yachtsman Leads Sailing Race

RYE, N. Y. (AP) — Bob Mosbacher of the Texas Corinthian Yacht Club holds a 2½-point lead over Norman D. Freeman of the Ithaca Yacht Club in the seventh annual men's North American sailing championship.

Mosbacher took the first two races for two-ten class sloops Monday and placed third the next time out for a total of 22½ points. Freeman had a third, then two second places, for 20.

Five races are yet to be sailed in the competition.

Mosbacher is a younger brother of Emil (Bus) Mosbacher, skipper of Vim in her recent unsuccessful bid against the yacht Columbia to represent the United States in the America's Cup races against England.

Twenty-Four Pass AAU Fitness Test

Twenty-four boys have qualified for the "Certificate of Achievement" by the AAU as the result of physical fitness tests conducted among 62 boys Saturday at the YMCA.

The 24 winners included Eugene Smith, John Davide, Justin Beck, Wendell Scherer, Bill Clark, George Chase, Larry Flowers, Tony Davide, Donald Beesmer, Jerry Oster, Scott Sharott, Stewart Sharott, Peter Lewis, Wayne Edge, Robert Burt, Paul Varga, Tony Causa, Kenny Baker, Tommy Berryann, John Zaccheo, Tim Farrell, James Rundle, Carl Glotzl and Bernard Ghezzi.

The six compulsory events included the 100 yard sprint, half mile, run, walk and run; sit ups, pushups, standing broad jump and basketball throw.

The tests were conducted by physical director Dick Case, assisted by members of the Junior and Senior leaders club of the Kingston Y. Plans are being made to repeat the tests in the spring of 1959. It was pointed out that 22 of the 24 winners were members of the YMCA last year, while 26 of the losers were not members.

Elliott Tempted By $100 G Offer

NEW YORK (AP) — Herb Elliott's decision of whether to turn professional footracer — something as rare as a three-legged horse—could have worldwide repercussions.

The fastest miler in history (3:54.5) is mulling over a $250,000 offer by American promoter Leo Leavitt in his home in far-off Australia.

When Leavitt first attracted attention by making his offer to Elliott, the obvious question was:

Who is he going to race?

That was settled today. Wes Santee, barred by the Amateur Athletic Union for accepting excessive expense money, is ready and willing to meet him.

Santee said at his Lawrence, Kan., home that he has been working out with just such an idea in mind.

Can Leavitt make good his offer to Elliott?

A quarter of a million dollars is a lot of money. Leavitt says he thinks he could pack stadiums on the West Coast and realize a healthy return for himself.

If he gets Santee in the show, that's highly possible. However, professional track and field never has gone over anywhere in the world before.

If Elliott should decide to turn pro, it could lead to the breaking of the "amateur trust." Never before has a top runner at the peak of his career deserted the amateurs. Elliott is 20 and has a long way to go.

Sherbrooke, Que.—Tommy Jackson, 198, New York, outpointed Johnny Vick, 180¼, Rochester, N.Y., 10.

Theiss' .444 Avg. Tops NY-NJ League

Matt Theiss, hard-hitting Beacon outfielder, is the official batting king of the New York-New Jersey League with a .444 average, according to statistics released today by John Babiarz, league secrtary.

Ohio State Is Tabbed No. 1 Team

NEW YORK (AP)—The sports writers and sportscasters participating in the Associated Press preseason football poll indicated today their judgment isn't to be influenced by past performance.

They can see the defending national champion Auburn team no better than fifth among the top 10. They handed the top spot to Ohio State, runner-up in 1957.

Ohio State received 46 first-place votes, twice as many as Oklahoma, second in the balloting. Ohio State had a total of 859 points to 788 for the Sooners.

Notre Dame was third, indicating the prestige of the Irish is undimmed despite their 7-3 record and 10th-place finish last year. Michigan State was fourth.

Most of the first-place votes were cornered by four teams, but no less than 42 teams received votes for the top 10.

Behind Auburn in the first 10 are Mississippi, Navy, Texas Christian, Army and North Carolina. Texas Christian, Army and North Carolina and newcomers to the group, based on last year's final standings.

One of Three Won't Make It

Old Casey Must Choose From Larsen, Sturdivant, Dickson

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The pennant at last is in the bag, Mickey Mantle and Bill Skowron are healthy, Gil McDougald's hitting and all Casey Stengel has to worry about is rebuilding his pitching staff again with his American League champion New York Yankees two weeks from the World Series.

His ailing pitchers — Whitey Ford, Don Larsen and Tom Sturdivant—provide part of the answer for the Yankees' slow clinching. But those three join 21-game winner Bob Turley as Stengel's top men for the Series.

"I had to make a new pitching staff in the middle of the season and I did it," said Stengel. "And now I'm going to do it again if these men show me they are capable.

"Larsen will pitch batting practice once more, then start a game next week. Sturdivant insists he's ready and as soon as I can, I'll start him too.

"But I won't decide on which men to make eligible for the Series until the end of the season, and maybe not until I go into that meeting with the commissioner the day before."

Submit 23 Names

The Yankees forwarded only a 23-man list to Commissioner Ford Frick last week for Series approval. Larsen, Sturdivant and Murry Dickson, a late-season arrival from Kansas City, were missing. Two of the three can be added under the 25-man Series limit.

Ford, who pitched five innings Sunday and felt fine, was on the original list, although the stubby southpaw had been ineffective for a month because of a sore arm.

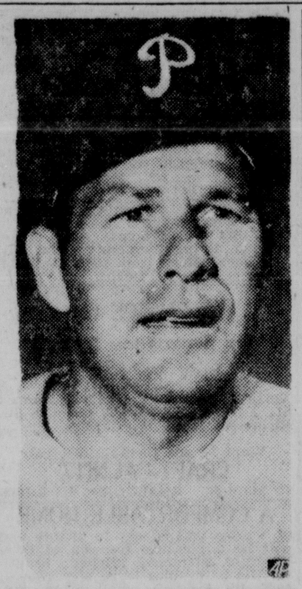

Larsen, the perfect game pitcher of the 1956 Series, also has had arm trouble. The big right-hander hasn't gone nine innings since July 18, has won but once since July 1.

Sturdivant, who spiked himself while shagging flies a month ago, also is a right-hander. He hasn't worked since Aug. 12.

Other pitchers eligible for the Series are Art Ditmar, rookie Zack Monroe, Duke Maas, Virgil Trucks—who formed the "rebuilt" staff over the last part of the season—relief ace Ryne Duren, Bobby Shantz and Johnny Kucks.

While making a quick review of his pitchers, Stengel plans to use his regulars the rest of the way to play it square against Detroit and Boston, both fighting for third place.

The only game scheduled Monday — Baltimore at Cleveland — was rained out.

TAGGED AS MANAGER? Baseball sources were mentioning Solly Hemus, above, as having the inside track on the manager's job at St. Louis. The former Cardinal infielder, now playing for Philadelphia, would succeed Fred Hutchinson. (AP Wirephoto).

Witt Top Choice for '58 Rookie

By JOE BRADIS

PITTSBURGH (DP) — Don't overlook young George (Red) Witt in the balloting for Rookie of the Year honors. The 25 - year-old Pittsburgh Pirate right - hander stands a good chance.

Since his recall from Columbus in June, the lanky Californian has pitched three shutouts and compiled an 8-2 record with a 1.59 earned run average, best in the National League.

Witt can pick up his seventh straight triumph against the St. Louis Cardinals tonight in the completion of a suspended game of Aug. 3. He leads 2-0 with the Pirates at bat in the fifth.

His recall by the Pirates in June was on his terms. He returned only with the assurance he could be a starter. "I didn't want to sit on the bench," he said. "That way I wouldn't help the club or myself."

Witt had an outstanding record with Hollywood in the Pacific Coast League last year where he won 18 and lost only 7. He led the league in shutouts with six, pitched one two-hit game, four three-hitters and two four-hitters. He hurled 58 1-3 consecutive innings without allowed an earned run and won nine straight, the longest winning streak for a PCL hurler last year.

In 18 games and 102 innings so far this season, the 6-3, 200-pounder has allowed 73 hits, walked 58 and struck out 81. He's pitched 4 complete games.

Familiar Faces To Be Missing From NL Squads

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Some familiar National Football League faces will either be missing or in different uniforms when the season opens Sept. 28 as a result of a wave of roster-trimming activity.

The teams are taking that last long look at the questionables as they trim their roster to 38 players, required to weeks prior to the season's opening.

A change of uniforms will affect: halfback Billy Reynolds, traded by the Cleveland Browns to the Pittsburgh Steelers for tackle Willie McClung. Defensive halfback Carl Karilivacz went from the champion Detroit Lions to the New York Giants, in return for a 1958 draft choice.

The Giants also got veteran guard Al Barry from Green Bay, plus guard Joe Skibinski. The Packers waived veteran halfback Veryl Switzer while the Baltimore Colts released veteran guard Jack Patera, from Oregon.

Some of these promising young rookies from the 1957 draft were included in Monday's cuts. Former Minnesota quarterback Bob Cox got the pink slip from the Los Angeles Rams, while halfback Reddy Osbourne from Texas A&M was let go by the Cleveland Browns. Dan Nolan one of the East's top quarterbacks with Lehigh last year, was released by Washington.

Kickers Click

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — The kicking of three sophomores pleases Ben Schwartzwalder, Syracuse University football coach.

Ed Kieffer of Breesport and Tom Gilburg of Chappaqua took over the punting role after the scrimmage with Army Saturday.

Dan Rackiewicz of Muskegon Heights, Mich., has been booting extra points with accuracy, Schwartzwalder said Monday.

Red Wants Tackle

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP)—Cornell's football team needs more able tackles, Coach Lefty James says.

James said Monday, he hoped to switch another lineman to tackle but he was not certain of the choice. He called intra - squad scrimmages for Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Baseball Circles Predict Wholesale Shakeup of Cards

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A shakeup of the St. Louis Cardinals all the way from dugout to front office is all but an accomplished fact, The Associated Pres has learned.

The key figures in the sweeping changes that seem inevitable—Birdie Tebbetts and Solly Hemus—spoke guardedly of their future.

But some confirmation of what seems to be in the wind came today from the Philadelphia Phillies headquarters.

Hemus, the reports have it, will replace Fred Hutchinson as the Redbirds' field manager. Hemus, 34, a former Cardinal, is the veteran infielder who has been as dynamic as any man on the last-place Phillies squad this season.

Tebbetts, who recently quit as manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs, will team up with Vaughan (Bing) Devine as co-general manager but without a formal title.

As further told by well-posted sources, another front office berth would be made for a man with baseball savvy, a man now with another major league club. His job would be to help Devine, who in turn would move up higher in the administrative scale.

Busch Dissapointed

Obviously smarting over the club's poor showing this eason, Cardinals President August Busch is represented as convinced at last that seasoned baseball men are better able to improve the fortunes of ball clubs than is a hierarchy of veeps at the brewery.

Busch, by report, has himself approached Hemus, Tebbetts and the third man, whose name is withheld.

Roy Hamey, Phils general manager, said the Cards have asked to dicker with the club for Hemus' managerial services.

He added that the Phils are ready to grant permission, but that they mean to demand suitable players in trade.

Hemus, commented: "The story is news to me. I don't know anything more than I have read in the papers.

"Sure, I'd love to manage the Cardinals. Who wouldn't? It's the dream of every major leaguer to manage in the big leagues."

Tebbetts, speaking from his home in Nashua, N.H., acknowledged that he will be back in baseball next year as an executive. He would not say, however, whether he had been negotiating with the Cardinals for any kind of job.

In St. Louis, Dick Meyer, Cardinals executive vice president, insisted that "Tebbetts is not coming to the Cardinals in any capacity.

"There will be no co-general manager. That's not a denial, it's a statement of fact."

He did say, however, that he had approached Phils owner Bob Carpenter concerning Hemus' availability.

TitlesBeckon For Ashburn And Braves

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Milwaukee Braves' magic number is going down, and Richie Ashburn's is going up.

The Braves, closing in on a repeat National League pennant, reduced the clinching combination to four by whipping Los Angeles 8-3.

Ashburn, riding a hot streak in a bid for his second batting title, pushed his average to .343 as Philadelphia rapped St. Louis 6-2 Monday night.

Those were the only games scheduled in the NL. None were played in the American League.

Any combination of four Milwaukee victories and—or defeats by the second-place Pittsburgh Pirates will make the Braves the only club other than the Dodgers to pin pennants back to back in the NL since 1944.

Adcock Delivers

The Braves had to rally in their final game of the season series with Los Angeles, won by the Dodgers 14-8. A five-run seventh inning, with two runs unearned, did the job. Joe Adcock batted in three runs for the champs, hitting his 19th home run in the fourth inning to cut the Dodger lead to 3-1, and then adding a two-run single in the seventh.

Bob Rush (9-6) was the winner in relief, with southpaw Fred Kipp (6-6) the loser.

Ashburn, setting a Phillie record for games played with 1,631, belted a triple and single in five at-bats. That put him .005 points ahead of the Cards' Stan Musial, out with a leg injury.

Willie Mays of San Francisco is third at .335, with Hank Aaron, 2-for-3 for the Braves after going hitless in eight at-bats, fourth at .333.

Jim Hegan was 3-for-4, with a pair of doubles, and drove in two runs for the Phils as Robin Roberts (16-13) tosed a seven-hitter against loser Wilmer Mizell (10-12). Irv Noren hit his third homer for the Cards.

Double Duty For Joe Adcock

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Big Joe Adcock, a part-time first baseman and some-time left fielder, has suddenly become of potential full-time value to the pennant bound Milwaukee Braves.

There is a possibility that "The Hoss" will see duty at both positions in the World Series, asuming the National League leaders maintain their present course.

"I wouldn't hesitate to use Adcock in left field in the series," Manager Fred Haney said Monday after his Braves beat Los Angeles 8-3 with Adcock's help. "He's never hurt us out there."

Adcock, who prefers to play first base but has been in left lately in the absence of the injured Wes Covington, helped the cause by smashing his 19th home run and driving in three runs. He collected three hits to raise his season batting average to .281.

In the last seven games—which comprise his second sustained tour as the Braves' left fielder — Adcock has clubbed the ball at a .462 clip on 12 hits in 26 trips. His output includes two homers and six runs batted in.

If Covington is unable to play in the fall clasic, Haney indicated that Adcock would be his No. 1 choice for left, with the veteran Andy Pafko in reserve for defensive purposes.

Top Rated Teams Are Honing Up For Grid Openers

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ohio State and the 41 other teams that merited at least one vote in the annual Associated Press pre-season football poll paused only for a slight nod at the accolade Monday and continued busines as usual on their practice fields.

The sessions, most of which have reached the one-a-day state, have settled down to polishing the finer points as opening Saturday approaches.

The Buckeyes, second in the final 1957 poll, had a double workout after spending a free weekend. Coach Woody Hayes plans a single session today.

Oklahoma, rated No. 2, promoted two linemen and a pair of backs to first string jobs, continuing preparation for the Sept. 27 opener against West Virginia. Coach Bud Wilkinson also held a 40-minute scrimmage with Wahoo McDaniel and Gilmer Lewis, the new line additions, and Dave Baker and Jackie Holt in the starting backfield.

Notre Dame, No. 3, had a bit of good news when speedster Pat Doyle was given a medical OK for heavy work. Doyle is expected to be one of the Irish's starting halfbacks.

Michigan State began concentrating on the players most likely to see action as Coach Duffy Daughtery started to set a varsity outfit for the opener against California Sept. 27. The Spartans were picked No. 4.

Jack Maxwell of Stamford Country Club teamed with three amateurs Monday to win the Northeastern New York Pro-Amateur tournament at the Rip Van Winkle Country Club in Palenville.

Maxwell and his partners—Allen Waterous of Woodstock and Al Flanagan and Jim Maines of Rip Van Winkle—fired a best ball 13-under par 59 to edge two other teams deadlocked for second place at 60.

The tie for second was between the teams of John Gaucas, Van Schaick, and his partners—Glen Teetsell and Nathan Burhans of Rip Van Winkle and Ed Barnes of Van Schaick; and Bob Smith and his Wolferts Roost partner, Mike Howard, and two members of the RVW—John Carnright and Gabe Vozdik.

Cronin Leads Pros

Bob Cronin of Warrensburgh led the pros with even par 72 on nines of 37-35.

A three-way tie for second at 73 involved Alex Gerlak of Twaalfskill; J. Carson Hutchins of Woodstock and Bob Smith of Wolfert's Roost.

Other pro scores included: Scotty Robertson, Onteora, 74; Jack Maxwell, Stamford, 76; John Gaucas, Van Schaick, 77; Bill Gressick, Catskill, 77; Ray Smith, RVW, 78; Ed Brown, Columbia, 82.

NOTICE OF SALE

STATE OF NEW YORK SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF ULSTER—SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION OF KINGSTON, Plaintiff, against JAMES R. BUNTIN and RUTH F. BUNTIN, his wife, WILHELMINE THOBEN, NORMAN KELLAR, AMERICAN FINANCE COMPANY OF CHEVY CHASE, INC., and ESSO STANDARD OIL COMPANY, Defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale duly made and entered in the above entitled action and bearing date the 18th day of August, 1958, I, the undersigned, the Referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the front door of the County Court House in the City of Kingston, County of Ulster and State of New York, on the 2nd day of October, 1958, at 11:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold and therein described as follows:—

"ALL THAT CERTAIN PIECE, PARCEL OR LOT OF LAND situate, lying and being in the Town of Gardiner, County of Ulster and State of New York, bounded and described as follows:—

BEGINNING at an iron pipe set in the easterly line of a public road called Yankee Fowler Road, said pipe being in the southerly line of lands of Raymond Jenkins; thence along a stone wall along lands of the said Jenkins S. 45 degrees 17 minutes East, 156.6 feet to a point; thence through the lands Ahlerich Thoben South 28 degrees west, 4 feet to an iron pipe set; thence south 28 degrees west, 116.4 feet to an iron pipe set; thence North 62 degrees west 150 feet to an iron pipe set in the easterly line of the aforesaid public road; thence along the same north 28 degrees east, 165.4 feet to the place of beginning. The bearings herein refer to the magnetic needle as it pointed in 1956.

Included herewith are any rights, title or interest of the party of the first part in and to the public road to the middle thereof in front of the above described lot.

Containing about one-half acre of land.

Being the same premises as conveyed by Ahlrich Thoben and Wilhelmine Thoben, husband and wife, to James R. Buntin and Ruth Frances Buntin, husband and wife, by deed dated May 4th, 1956, and to be recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office simultaneously with this mortgage which is a purchase money mortgage.

SUBJECT to an easement heretofore granted by Alex Thoben and Mrs. Wilhelmine Thoben to Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. and New York Telephone Co. by instrument dated August 31, 1955 and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office on September 29, 1955, in Deed Book 943 at page 578, insofar as the same may affect the above described premises."

INVITATION TO BIDDERS

Sealed proposals will be received by the Building & Supply Committee of the Common Council of the City of Kingston, N. Y. at the office of the City Clerk until 7:30 p. m. September 24, 1958 at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read.

The scope of the work for the comparison of bids is as follows:

The painting and renovating of all the rooms and fixtures of the Police Department on the first floor of the City Hall, 408 Broadway, Kingston, New York as shown on plan of Police Headquarters, dated April 9th, 1958. The rooms are the Chief's Office, Detective Bureau Waiting Room, Corridor, Cell Rooms, Storage Room, Fingerprint and Teletype Room, Headquarters Room, Squad Room and Lieutenants' Room.

Proposals must be submitted on forms furnished by the Building and Supply Committee. These forms together with contract documents, specifications and plan may be obtained from the Department of Engineering, A. F. Hallinan, City Engineer, City Hall, upon the deposit of $10.00, which will be refunded upon the return of the documents in good order within ten (10) days after the opening of bids. Contractors who do not submit proposals will be refunded $5.00 upon the return of the documents above. These documents may be examined free of charge at the above office of the Department of Engineering.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check in the amount of ten percent (10%) of the total amount bid, which will be returnable upon the non acceptance of bid or the execution of the contract. No bids may be withdrawn for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening of bids.

The Building and Supply Committee expressly reserve the right to waive any informalities in or to accept any bid, or to reject any and all bids, or to award on any or all items, as the interest of the City of Kingston may appear to require.

By order of the Building and Supply Committee of the Common Council.

RAYMOND A. McANDREW
City Clerk

Dated: September 15, 1958.

Terrorists Carry Campaign Into Marseille Camp

MARSEILLE, France (AP) — North Africans carried their campaign of terrorism inside a military camp in Marseille today and blew up a tank. One soldier was killed and six wounded.

Other terrorists set a bomb under a 12-ton fuel storage tank in the city but it was discovered before it went off.

A charge Monday rocked the local government headquarters, wounding four persons.

Police in Le Havre reported a bomb exploded Monday night in the port area under a tanker containing sulphuric acid. Nobody was injured and damage was slight.

Violence also erupted Monday night in eastern France where Europeans clashed with North Africans in three cities. Eight persons were injured.

The violence reflected French anger over the wave of terrorism which has been fatal to 14 Frenchmen since Aug. 25.

In the War of 1812, New York State was an important battleground and supply center.

LEGAL NOTICE

STATE OF NEW YORK SUPREME COURT; COUNTY OF ALBANY
SHERIFF'S SALE

EDWARD W. BOUTELLE and LINDSAY M. BOUTELLE, doing business under the firm name of Edward W. Boutelle and Son, Plaintiffs, against WASHBURN BROTHERS COMPANY, Defendants.

By virtue of an execution issued out of the Supreme Court, County of Ulster, against the property, real and personal, of Washburn Brothers Company, the undersigned will sell at public auction, pursuant to law, at Court House, Kingston, on the 30th day of September 1958, at 11:00 o'clock of forenoon of that day, all the right, title and interest which the said Washburn Brothers Company had therein on the 23rd day of May 1958, or any time subsequent thereto, in and to the lands and premises described as follows:

All that tract or parcel of land situate in the Village of Glasco, County of Ulster, and State of New York bounded by the road known as the Glasco Turnpike Road on the North and on the Southwest by lands formerly of said Henry Coose, now owned by the party of the second part, last course being substantially a straight line from said road to the corner with lands now of party of the second part with lands now or late of land of Andrew Low and from thence running northerly along the lands of said Low on a line three feet West side of the carpenter shop of said Low to said Glasco Turnpike road commonly called Delaware Street.

Also all that certain other lot, piece or parcel of land situate in the Village of Glasco, County of Ulster, State of New York, being the westerly part of lot No. 41 commencing at the southwesterly corner of said lot No. 41 and thence running easterly along the South bounds of said lot No. 41 about 97 feet to the South of a fence and runs thence northwesterly about 75 feet to the southerly bound of lot No. 42 and runs thence westerly along the South bounds of lot #42 about 42 feet to the Northwest corner of lot #41 and runs from thence South along the West bounds of lot #41, 50 feet to the place of beginning.

Being the same premises conveyed by Jeanette Coose and Henry Coose to Washburn Brothers Company by full covenant deed dated April 29, 1897 and recorded in Ulster County Clerk's Office November 3, 1897 in Book No. 339 of Deeds at page 564.

All that tract or parcel of land situate in the Town of Saugerties, County of Ulster and State of New York bounded and described as follows, on the South and West by land late of Rev. Henry Ostrander now deceased on the North by the land of Edward Myer farm, now of Peter Ebel and on the East by land that said John Maginess deceased willed to his daughter, Louisa MaGiness now owned by Jeanette Coose, wife of Henry Coose, containing 8 acres more or less and being the land devised to party of the first part by the codicil to the will of said John Maginess dated May 6, 1874, to which will and codicil duly admitted to probate in Ulster County Surrogate's Court reference is hereto had for a more full and particular description of said land.

Being the same premises conveyed by John Eddy Maginess to Washburn Brothers Company by warranty deed dated December 20, 1897 and recorded in Ulster County Clerk's Office December 27, 1897 in Book 341 of Deeds at Page 346.

All that tract or parcel of land, situate in the Town of Saugerties, County of Ulster and State of New York, at Glasco and known and distinguished on the map made by Alex McElsary, C. E., February 1864 as Village lots numbers 4, 5, and 6 save and excepting so much of lot 4 conveyed to Daniel Delaney and compr

Requests Topic for UN

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio said today Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko had called for the question of the cessation of nuclear weapon tests to be included on the agenda of the U.N. General Assembly.

The broadcast, quoting a Tass dispatch from New York, said Gromyko made the request in a letter to Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

Warm Weather Is Outlook for East For Next 30 Days

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Weather Bureau said today the next 30 days will bring a reversal of the weather pattern of the past 30. The East will be warmer, much of the West cooler.

The bureau said its 30-day outlook for mid-September to mid-October calls for temperatures to average above seasonal normals in the southeastern quarter of the nation, Texas, and in the area from the Ohio Valley Eastward through the Middle Atlantic States.

The bureau added:

"Near normal temperatures are indicated for New England and states bordering the eastern Great Lakes. Over the west half of the country below normal temperatures are anticipated, except for above normal along the West Coast. This country-wide temperature pattern marks a reversal from that of the past 30 days when unseasonably cold weather dominated the East and warm weather the West.

"Precipitation is expected to exceed normal over most of the area lying between the Appalachians and the Continental Divide. Subnormal amounts are expected over the Southeast and far Southwest. Otherwise about normal precipitation is indicated."

Will Be Flown Home

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP)—An American student seriously injured in a bus accident in Switzerland last month will be flown home by the U. S. Air Force.

He is Philip A. Miles, 20, of Tuckahoe, N. Y. He was injured last month while at a work camp sponsored by the World Council of Churches. Since the accident, he has been in a German hospital in the Saar.

Miles will be taken by ambulance from the Saar hospital Saturday to Ramstein Air Base. He will be flown from there to the Air Force hospital here before being placed on a flight later this month to McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey.

He will be met at McGuire by a civilian ambulance which will take him to the Flower and 5th Avenue Hospital in New York City. His father, S. John Miles, will accompany him on the flight home.

Commutes Sentence

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The death penalty imposed on Belgian Consul General Louis de San was commuted to 20 years' imprisonment Monday night by President Camille Chamoun. De San was convicted of importing arms from Syria.

Principal Dates Are Listed

Promotion Head Is Named For Red Feather Campaign

ROBERT N. NADLER

The appointment of Robert N. Nadler, local Chrysler-Plymouth dealer, as chairman of the promotion committee for the Community Chest's Red Feather drive was announced today by Richard M. Kalish, general chairman.

Nadler's co-chairman will be William Schiff Jr., of Hurley, who is associated with the Allen L. Hanstein, Inc., insurance agency.

Both men have participated in the work of the Kingston Area Community Chest, Inc., for several years. Nadler was general vice chairman of the drive in 1956, and has served in various campaign capacities including commercial division and promotion. He is a member of the Chest's board of directors. Schiff has served on the promotion committee for the past three campaigns.

Annual Appeal

The drive constitutes the combined annual appeals of 10 member agencies; Association for the Help of Retarded Children, Boys' Club, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Jewish Community Center, Salvation Army, USO, Volunteers of America, YMCA and YWCA. Its goal this year is $128,651.

Principal dates for this year's drive also were listed today by Chairman Kalish:

Wednesday, Sept. 17, Business and Industrial Division workers will meet for breakfast at 8:02 a. m. at the Governor Clinton Hotel for prospect assignment and distribution of materials. At 7:30 p. m. on that day, a combined meeting of the campaign cabinet and board of directors will be held at Chest headquarters, YWCA building.

Friday, Sept. 19, luncheon meeting of heads of all firms employing 100 or more persons, at the Wiltwyck Country Club, 12:20 p. m.

Key Man Rally

Wednesday, Sept. 24, Key Man Rally at Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation auditorium, 7:30 p. m., for those heading in-plant solicitations in business and industrial firms.

Friday, Sept. 26, Special Gifts Division kick-off luncheon, Governor Clinton Hotel, 12:10 p. m.

Monday, Sept. 29, official kick-off of campaign. Breakfast meeting of 180 commercial division workers at Governor Clinton Hotel, 8:02 a. m.

Monday, Oct. 6, first report luncheon, all divisions except women's.

Tuesday, Oct. 7, Women's Division kick-off.

Wednesday, Oct. 8, second report luncheon.

Friday, Oct. 10, third report luncheon.

Wednesday, Oct. 15, Victory Dinner, at Governor Clinton Hotel, 6:30 p. m.

Listed meals are of the "Dutch treat" variety, none being financed by campaign funds. Additional dates and further details will be announced.

Storm Slims Down

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—An easterly wave of bad weather, once known as tropical storm Gerda, moved west at about 15 m. p. h. Tuesday and troubled Florida's coastal waters.

Slimmed down from storm strength Monday night, the wave extended from the western tip of Cuba southwestward into the northwest Caribbean Sea.

Small craft warnings were aloft along the south Florida coast from Vero Beach to Fort Myers, and probably will remain up tonight Tuesday.

Pope Urges Support

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Pius XII has urged fuller support of Roman Catholic schools by public officials.

The Pope spoke Sunday to members of the general assembly of the International Office of Catholic Teaching.

"The Christian school," said the Pope, "justifies its reason for being in the measure in which its teachers, lay and clerical, religious and secular, succeed in forming solid Christians."

"Unfortunately," he added, "despite its evident merits, the Catholic school does not always find among public powers the support that it should by right receive."

Chambers School P-TA Group Will Meet Tonight, 7:30

The Chambers School Parent-Teachers Association will hold its first meeting at 7:30 p. m. today at the school.

From 7:30 to 7:45 p. m. there will be a room visitation for parents.

This will be followed by a panel discussion featuring a group of special service teachers.

Leslie Hotaling, president of the association, will preside.

Red Carpet Treatment Only Scares Away Teen-Agers

Is it possible for a mother to be too hospitable to her teen-age children's guests? That question is prompted by the following letter:

"I have two teen-agers, one 14 and one 16. What worries me is that they so rarely bring any of their friends to the house, but seem to prefer being with their friends at anybody's house but their own.

"The reason I can't understand this is because whenever they have brought a friend or several of their crowd to our house I have knocked myself out to make them welcome. I fix nice refreshments for them, talk to them, suggest a variety of things they might do to entertain themselves, etc. And when they leave I make a point of urging them to come back. What in the world could the trouble be?"

You've probably overdone your hospitality. Teen-agers can take an awful lot of being let alone by adults. Your concern for them, your "knocking yourself out" to make them welcome, your attempts to persuade them to "have fun" doing this or that instead of sitting around idly listening to records, talking and generally doing nothing, probably just makes them uncomfortable.

Next time your children bring their friends over, speak to them pleasantly and then make yourself busy — and scarce — in another part of the house.

Let them rummage in the ice box for what they want to eat and drink. Let them sit around looking bored if they want to. Let them leave when they get the urge to move on. And don't make such a point of assuring them that they are always welcome. They'll feel far more welcome in your home if you just take their visits for granted.

The homes where teen-agers like most to gather are those in which they are treated most casually. Honest.
